Coins or Patterns?

Christian Gobrecht
Fourth Chief Engraver
August, 1840–July, 1844

The Gobrecht Dollars of 1836-1839

by R.W. Julian, ANA 29732

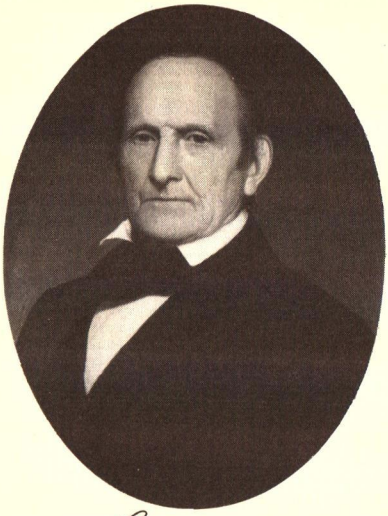

ALTHOUGH THE PHILADELPHIA mint struck more than 1.4 million silver dollars between 1794 and 1804, these coins saw very little circulation in this country, as they were heavily used in the export trade. For this reason dollar coinage was halted in March, 1804.

To replace the dollar, large numbers of half dollars were coined; these, however, were not exported to any great extent. The half dollars were primarily used as reserves for notes issued by private banks, although many did, of course, circulate.

In 1831 Mint Director Samuel Moore reported to the Treasury that it was safe to resume coinage of dollars since the economic conditions that had caused the 1804 suspension no longer existed. The President authorized the resumption of coinage, but a decrease in silver bullion imports forced a change in plans. Despite this setback, both Moore and Engraver William Kneass wished to resume dollar coinage and thus bided their hopes until a better time.

During 1835 several events occurred which hastened the resumption of dollar coinage. Director Moore submitted his resignation in the early part of the year to take effect on June 30. His replacement, who arrived in the second week of July, was Dr. Robert Maskell Patterson, Moore's brother-in-law. Moore and Patterson had kept in contact during 1835 and the latter was fully in agreement with plans for the resumption. Patterson also inherited the complex arrangements then just underway for building and equipping the three branch mints recently mandated by Congress.

One of the first problems to face the new director was the sudden need for an assistant to Kneass, who had suffered a light stroke in late August. As early as June 15 Moore had petitioned the Treasury to hire Christian Gobrecht as another engraver on the grounds that the proliferation of mints would put an undue strain on the engraving department. The initial request was turned down, but Patterson's emergency application to hire Gobrecht following Kneass' stroke was approved in short order.

Prior to Kneass' stroke, Patterson had already taken positive steps toward beginning the dollar coinage, by asking artists Titian Peale and Thomas Sully for special designs. Peale was requested to execute drawings of an eagle "flying, and rising in its flight, amidst the constellation irregularly disposed of twenty-four stars." It would be several months and many dozens of drawings later before Peale finally satisfied Dr. Patterson's demand for artistic perfection.

Sully, one of the most noted artists of his era, was commissioned to produce a seated Liberty figure for the silver dollar obverse. Patterson furnished the artist with a number of coins and medals as a guide, in particular several English pieces. Although not mentioned specifically, it is almost certain that these coins included the well-known copper coins with the Britannia reverse, originally introduced to English coinage in the late 1600's. That design, in turn, had been based on Roman coinage celebrating the conquest of Britain during the reign of the Emperor Claudius.

The first to finish his task, at least in partial form, was Sully, who produced an acceptable likeness of the seated Liberty in the latter part of 1835. As soon as he could be spared from the regular duties, Gobrecht was directed by Patterson to begin work on a study die with this new design.

By early 1836 Gobrecht had finished the trial die, and a few uniface strikes had been made for submission to artistic critics and government officials. These patterns, in tin, were shown to President Jackson, who gave his general approval, but suggested some minor changes.

THERE WERE SEVERAL LETTERS between Philadelphia and Washington from mid to late January discussing the merits of the new design. On the basis of these discussions with government officials and local artists, several modifications were decided upon for the next obverse study die. Gobrecht began work on the revised design toward the end of January, 1836, but his task was interrupted by a Treasury Department mandate to execute a pair of dies for a pattern gold dollar which was also then under consideration by the government.

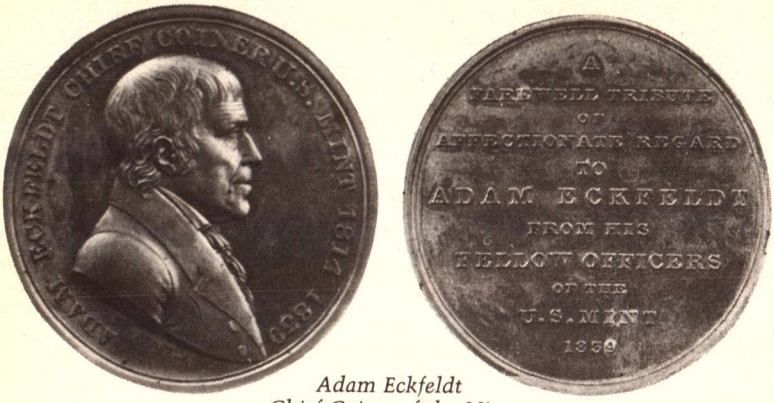

Once the gold dollar dies were finished, Gobrecht was able to resume the tedious hand engraving of the second dollar obverse, which he completed about the end of March, 1836. On April 9 the director sent to Washington two specimens from this die. These uniface patterns were forwarded to Treasury Secretary Levi Woodbury, although the covering letter specifically asked that the President be shown all the material. Patterson indicated that he felt this study was a great improvement over the first, and those who saw it agreed.

In his letter of April 9, Patterson also enclosed a drawing for the reverse, done by Peale, that fully met his expectations. Within a short time Woodbury wrote Patterson to indicate that the President had approved the obverse pattern, as well as the proposed design for the reverse. It was noted, however, that it was the view in Washington that the eagle's mouth should be closed for better effect. In an exchange of letters on this point, Patterson managed to successfully defend the drawing as sent.

Despite official approval of the materials sent in early April, 1836, Patterson ordered Gobrecht to complete a third obverse die. This was ready in mid-June, and the necessary impressions were sent to the Treasury for examination. Further improvements had clearly been made. Since the second obverse die had already been approved, Patterson was merely exhibiting to the government further refinements on the basic design.

At the same time that the third obverse was completed, the director ordered that Gobrecht commence work on the reverse. Working at top speed, the engraver finished this die sometime around August 20; on the 25th the director sent a tin impression from the die to Washington. Patterson now formally requested approval of the obverse and reverse designs as sent. On August 27, 1836, Treasury Secretary Woodbury, after consultation with the President, did just that. Under the mint law of April, 1792, and with presidential approval of the new designs, the way was now clear to resume the coinage of dollars, interdicted since 1804.

LITTLE WAS DONE during the next few weeks because of heavy activity in the engraving and coining departments, but on September 22, 1836, Chief Coiner Adam Eckfeldt was ordered by the director to prepare for an "early issue of dollar coins." Although steam-powered coining equipment had been in use since the previous March, Eckfeldt was directed to employ the manually operated screw press to strike these coins.

It was intended to use a reeded collar for the dollars, but this was prevented by technical problems, so the pieces were made with a plain edge. It was not until the patterns of 1838 that the reeded edge was put on the silver dollar.

Although Gobrecht was the principal engraver (Kneass was still able to do part of his duties), Chief Coiner Eckfeldt prepared the actual working dies and hubs necessary for the coinage. Just when the coiner's department began doing this type of work is uncertain, but it may have begun as early as 1824 when Kneass became engraver. At any rate, when the dies were prepared Gobrecht's name was added in tiny letters (C. GOBRECHT F. = C. Gobrecht engraver) in the field between the date and figure of Liberty.

Once these dies were finished several patterns in silver were struck and passed around to influential persons, especially in the artistic community. There was an instant and unpleasant reaction to the bold display of Gobrecht's name, which had been put there at Patterson's express command. Even the newspapers criticized the "conceited German" for his audacity.

The number of silver patterns so struck is not known but the old estimate of eighteen pieces is as good as any and the actual number could not have been too far removed from that figure. Despite numerous assertions to the contrary, some made well over a century ago, this is the sole pattern silver dollar of 1836. Judd lists several for this year, but his number 58 is the only legitimate pattern dollar. Restrikes made of this issue in silver and copper in the late 1850's will be discussed later.

Responding to the unexpected local criticism, Dr. Patterson ordered that a new obverse die be prepared with the artist's name imbedded in the base of the Liberty figure, rather than in the open as before. Whether samples from this die were passed around is unknown, but presumably the director consulted some of the critics before taking such a step.

UNDER THE PERSONAL SUPERVISION of the chief coiner, preparations for a silver dollar coinage were well underway by early December, and toward the middle of the month 400 silver dollars were struck. These were not officially reported until the final day of the year, as was common practice by those responsible for keeping coinage records.

Although precise information is not available, it is almost certain that these first 400 dollars were retained by the mint for distribution to depositors of silver and others who wanted a copy of this special coinage. All pieces were struck in proof, due to Patterson's wish that this be an impressive coin. The magnificence of the design compared with earlier mint pieces is striking, but in proof condition the reception by a public used to dreary designs must have been electrifying.

Due to the demand for the new dollars, another 600 pieces were coined toward the end of the month. Both deliveries of dollars were reported officially on December 31, 1836, as separate entries in the mint records. The second delivery of 600 coins was sent to the Bank of the United States in Philadelphia for distribution. No doubt the coins were strictly rationed due to the small number made, a mere 1000 pieces overall in 1836.

IT MUST BE EMPHASIZED THAT THESE 1000 SILVER DOLLARS OF DECEMBER, 1836, ARE LEGAL COINS IN THE FULL SENSE OF THE WORD AND ARE NOT PATTERNS. THEY WERE STRUCK IN FULL COMPLIANCE WITH THE BASIC MINT LAW OF APRIL, 1792, AND WEIGH 416 GRAINS EACH AS REQUIRED. A TYPE SET OF U.S. COINS IS NOT COMPLETE WITHOUT ONE OF THESE PIECES.

Because of continued demand for specimens of the Gobrecht dollar, the director ordered another 600 pieces produced in March, 1837. Again, the coins were all struck in proof. They weighed 412.5 grains each, as stipulated by the new mint law that took effect on January 18, 1837, but this represented no loss in pure silver (371.25 grains) as the fineness was raised slightly in compensation for the 3.5 grain loss in weight.

Because 1836 dies were used for the March, 1837 coinage, mint officials gave the 1837 coinage a special feature to determine which year the coins were struck—an upset reverse die. Instead of turning the coin over to see the reverse as is done on regular U.S. coins, these pieces officially used the medallic style of reverse in which the coin is turned sideways to see the back properly. The same style is seen on current Canadian coins as well as those of other nations. The two types are sometimes referred to as 'coin' versus 'medallic' reverses.

The silver dollars of 1837 with dies of 1836 are the only regular issue U.S. coins with the medallic reverse, although other coins—the result of loose dies in the press—are known. As with the pieces struck in 1836, restrikes do exist of the 1837 issue.

The Treasury Department requested 25 silver dollars of an 1838 date in July of that year, but Director Patterson reported that none had been made. Instead, 25 pieces of the December, 1836, coinage were sent to Washington. None of the 1837 issue was on hand.

This figure of 25 is sometimes used as the basis for the number of 1838 pattern dollars made, but in fact there is no documentary source known for such a figure. Dies were prepared at some later point in 1838 and these incorporated design changes ordered by Patterson. The stars were put on the obverse, leaving the eagle in a plain field.

How many 1838 pattern silver dollars were made is an open question but a good estimate would be the 25 ordered by Washington (25

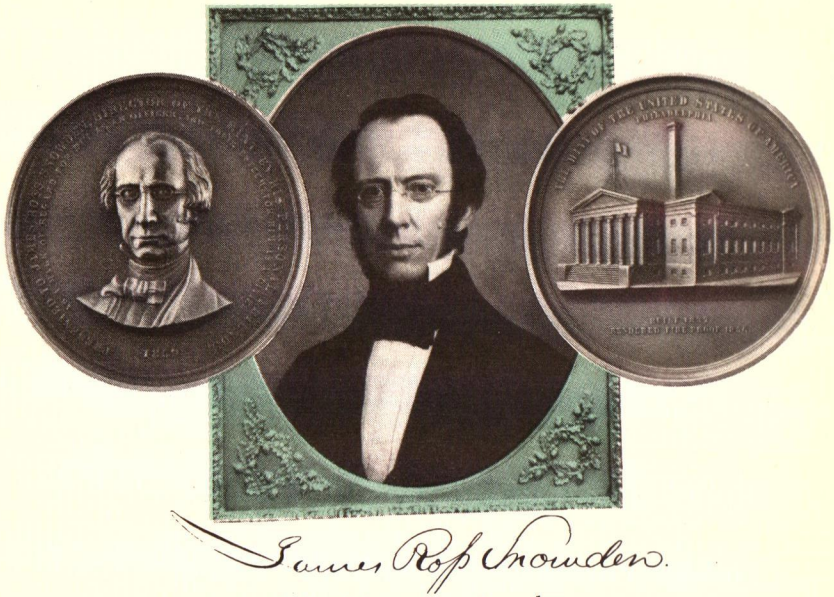

Gobrecht pattern dollar (Judd 58) with C. GOBRECHT in field below base. Obverse and reverse dies were aligned as a regular coin turn (top to bottom). Dividing dots in the encircling legend are aligned horizontally on the reverse.

The regular (416 grains) issue dollar of 1836 with C. GOBRECHT on base. Obverse and reverse dies were aligned as a regular coin turn. The dividing dots on the reverse legend are aligned on a horizontal axis.

The (412.5 grains) dollar struck in 1837 using 1836 dated dies with C. GOBRECHT on base featured a "medallic turn" (side to side) reverse alignment. The dividing dots in the reverse legend are on a horizontal axis.

Colonel James Ross Snowden
Ninth Director of the Mint June, 1853–May, 1861

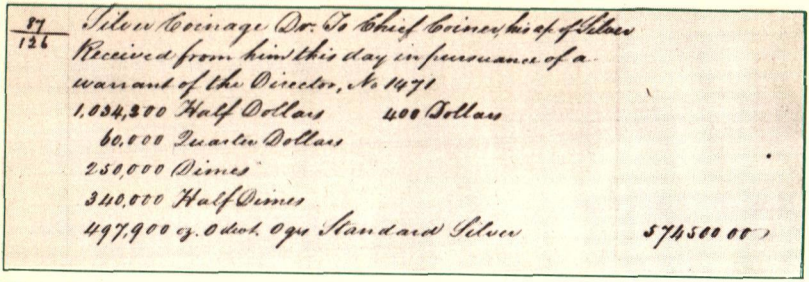

had already been sent of an earlier date, but the order was considered still in force by the mint) plus whatever number of pieces were needed for local collectors, both within and beyond the mint walls. In all, it would probably be safe to postulate a striking of 50 or more pieces.

The patterns of 1838 (reeded edge, stars on obverse only) are just that and not legal coins as has sometimes been stated in print. The coinage records contain no entry for dollars in 1838 and the documents are known to be complete. In addition, the dollars of 1836 and 1837 were reported by the director in the mint's respective annual reports to the President, but the report for 1838 is silent.

The final coinage of the Gobrecht flying eagle dollars came in December, 1839, when 300 pieces were delivered by the coiner to the treasurer of the mint, all in proof condition. These are also coins in every sense of the word.

WHEN LARGE-SCALE COINING of dollars was resumed in 1840 the special flying eagle reverse was rejected on grounds that are not exactly clear at present. However, it is likely that someone ordered the old regular reverse eagle used since it would then match the design on the half dollar and quarter. Uniformity of design was very important in the minds of mint officialdom during the early decades of this country.

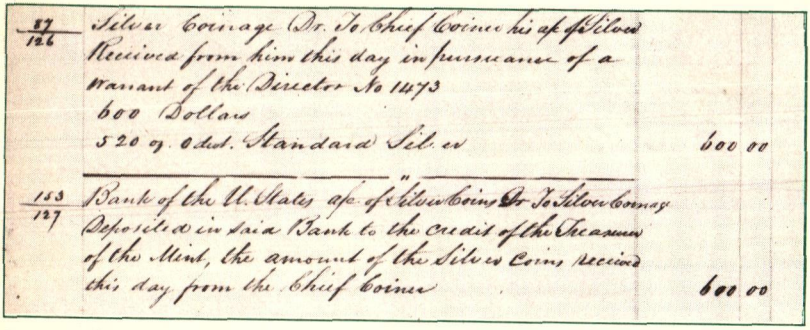

Beginning about 1857, Mint Director James Ross Snowden began to restrike many older U.S. coins and patterns for sale (or trade) to collectors. The purpose was to obtain desirable coins and medals for the mint cabinet. The Gobrecht dies of 1836-1839 were muled in several combinations never originally made, as well as in pieces similar to those of the 1830's. It made no difference to collectors.

In the book, Walter Breen's Encyclopedia of United States and Colonial Proof Coins 1722-1977 (an excellent reference every collector should have), the extremely important discovery is announced that the restrikes of the 1850's can easily be distinguished from the original silver dollars struck in the 1830's. The method is simplicity itself.

If the coins—the special 1837 issue excepted—are turned

All other Gobrecht dollars with the above dates, of whatever metals or die combinations, are restrikes of the late 1850's. Such pieces may be distinguished from originals by noting that when the coin is properly rotated the eagle is flying horizontally. On original specimens the eagle is flying "onward and upward" when properly rotated.

Typical example of restrike reverse normally, the original issues will have the eagle on the reverse flying "onward and upward" to the left. The restrikes have the eagle flying horizontally when the coins are turned the same way. Presumably most of the restrikes weigh 412.5 grains, but this would help to determine only those pieces originally struck in 1836 that weigh 416 grains and is of little practical value for most collectors, since most do not possess scales of this kind. Judging from conversations with others and personal experience, it is believed that most (perhaps over three-fourths?) of the existing Gobrecht dollars dated 1836-1839 are actually restrikes of the late 1850's.

ONCE IT IS REALIZED by the collecting community at large that the Gobrecht silver dollars of the 1830's are coins, original pieces should begin to bring much higher prices, while the restrikes—the only pieces available to the bulk of collectors—should increase in value but at a slower rate. It is hoped that collectors will demand that dealers specify as to whether a dollar of 1836-1839 is an original or a restrike. Since many dealers will probably refuse to do so, one can no doubt assume in the future that any such coin offered for sale and not labelled, is in truth a restrike. One must also be fair to dealers in general by noting that some catalogs and sales are already in preparation, and it would be difficult and expensive to reprint catalogs for just this one point. After a few months, however, any reason for failing to differentiate a restrike from an original will disappear.

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

George D. Hatie

ANA members will be pleased to learn that in February and March we processed a marked increase in new membership applications as evidenced in this month's Membership Report. The increase is primarily attributable to Q. David Bowers and John Murbach who sent membership applications and brochures along with a cover letter extolling the benefit of ANA membership to all those on the Bowers and Ruddy Galleries, Inc. mailing lists. So far they have obtained 332 new members in February and 573 new members in March. Others who in recent years have obtained substantial numbers of new members include James Halperin and Leroy Bellisario of New England Rare Coin Galleries, Max Humbert and David Akers of Paramount International, Joe Flynn, Sr. and Joe Flynn, Jr. of Joe Flynn Rare Coins, Inc., and a number of individuals, including Kurt Krueger, Grover Criswell and Margo Russell. There are undoubtedly others whose names should be mentioned. Dave Bowers has received a very satisfactory response in requesting other large numismatic dealers to send applications and brochures to their customers.

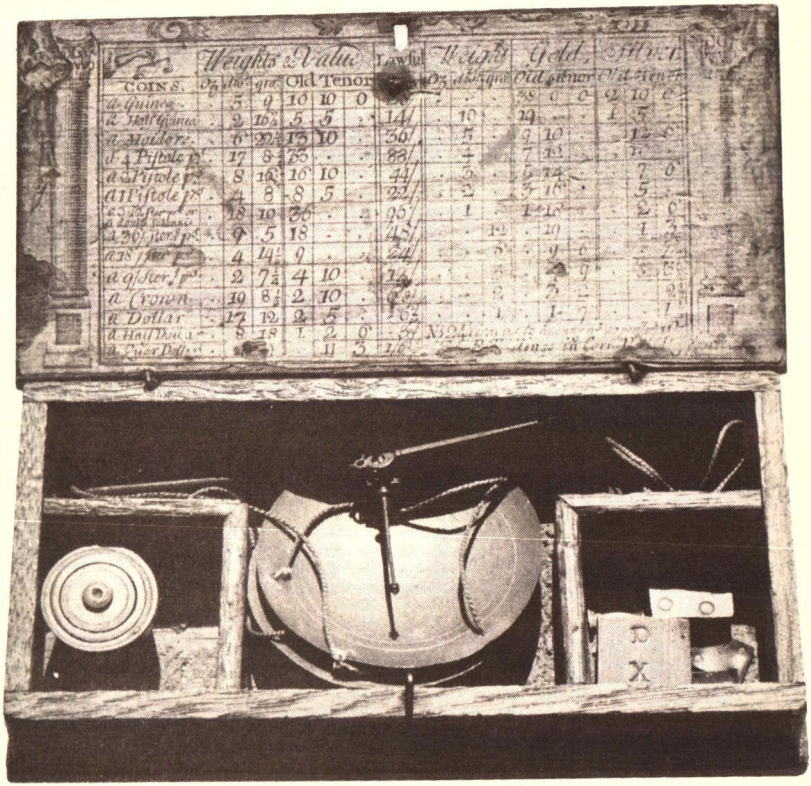

In March I had the pleasure of attending the very successful Eighth International Numismatic Convention of the Mexican Numismatic Society held in Mexico City. Everyone was friendly and hospitable and the tours and other scheduled events were most enjoyable and informative. In April I had the pleasure of attending two great conventions, the Metropolitan New York Numismatic Convention in New York City, and the Central States Numismatic Society Convention in Lincoln, Nebraska.

It is not too early to make plans to attend the ANA Convention in Cincinnati next August. Air fares are constantly on the increase and it is advisable to order and pay for your air tickets at the earliest possible date so as to avoid the increase and to obtain one of the limited number of seats reserved for excursion fare passengers.

Several months ago I mentioned in my comments the desirability of every ANA member writing to his congressman, urging him to act as a cosponsor of House Joint Resolution 451 which authorizes the President to designate the third week of April as National Coin Week. Two-hundred-and-eighteen members of the House of Representatives must cosponsor this resolution. As of this writing, only seventy-five members have become cosponsors. With the necessary additional cosponsors, the Resolution will become effective for 1981 and subsequent years. I have written a letter to every congressman who has not acted as a cosponsor and have also prepared a different type of letter for Kurt Krueger to send to the District Representatives. Most of the congressmen are unwilling to cosponsor this resolution until they have heard from their constituents within their respective districts. I urge each of you to write a brief letter to your own congressman urging him to "act as a cosponsor of House Joint Resolution 451." Merely asking him to support the resolution is not enough. A letter to a senator would have little or no effect as the resolution is pending in the House of Representatives. The address of your congressman is: House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

The Collecting Experience:

A Lesson in History

by

A. George Mallis, NLG, ANA 29890

For my wife and I one of our favorite ways to spend a pleasant day is to attend an outdoor or indoor antique show. During the colder months in New England, we are confined to the indoor variety, but with the coming of spring and summer, the New England area is filled with outdoor shows just about every weekend.

At a show in early May some years ago, we went from booth to booth looking for any item that would satisfy our rather catholic tastes in collecting small antiques. Among our special collecting interests are coin scales and counterfeit coin detectors. We are active members of the International Society of Antique Scale Collectors and have had a long interest in these devices. It is understandable, therefore, for us to open just about any box we see that might be a scale box. When we came to this particular booth where there were several small boxes, we scanned the group carefully. One small, oak box caught our attention. The cover was staple hinged with an eye through it which engaged a small brass hasp. The top of the box was lightly carved in rectangular areas that resembled tooling on leather. This description fit the type of box used to house early equal arm balance scales and weights, particularly those of English make.

Not daring to get our hopes up too high, we opened the box and nearly burst with enthusiasm. Not only was there a coin scale with weights in the box, but the lid had the original contemporary label that went with the box. We asked the price, paid it without reservations, and took possession of our prize. The rest of show was anti-climatic . . . as you can imagine we were anxious to get home and research our latest find.

Upon arriving home, we carefully studied the scales, weights, and particularly the label. To our surprise we found that the label carried the name "R. Billings in Corn Hill, Bofton." Examining the weights showed each weight to be counterstamped with a "Lion Passant." This mark was the assay mark of the Goldsmiths Hall of London and was used as a verification mark on coin weights used in England. There was no question that those weights were of English origin. The American Colonial label on the lid posed another problem, though. Some futher research into T. Sheppard and J.F. Musham's Money Scales and Weights turned up this same label except that the name "Billings . . . ." is replaced with "Sold by Lewis Deblois at Ye Golden Eagle Dock Lo." Obviously, this scale, box and weights were all of English origin, circa 1740, and had been sent to the American Colonies to sell, and for that purpose some Colonial agent's name had been substituted for that of the English maker or seller. We were determined to try and find out who R. Billings of Corn Hill, Boston was, so we tried the local library reference books, but even the library in Boston did not have records going back that far. We seemed to have come to the end of the line.

Time passed and while we slowly added more items to our antique scale collection, there was always in the back of our minds this matter of "Billings." While on a trip to my alma mater, the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, we went by The American Antiquarian Society building that adjoins the campus.

Here we realized we might find the answer to our research problem, for the American Antiquarian Society dates back to Colonial days and is perhaps the finest facility of its kind in the world in which to do Colonial American research. Stopping in, we made arrangements to come back in a few days and do some research on this mystery.

About a week later, we arrived at the Society with our little treasure and went to see one of the staff members. She was very helpful and offered to assist us in our research. We showed her the scale with its label and pointed out that we were interested in tracing down this mysterious "R. Billings in Corn Hill, Bofton."

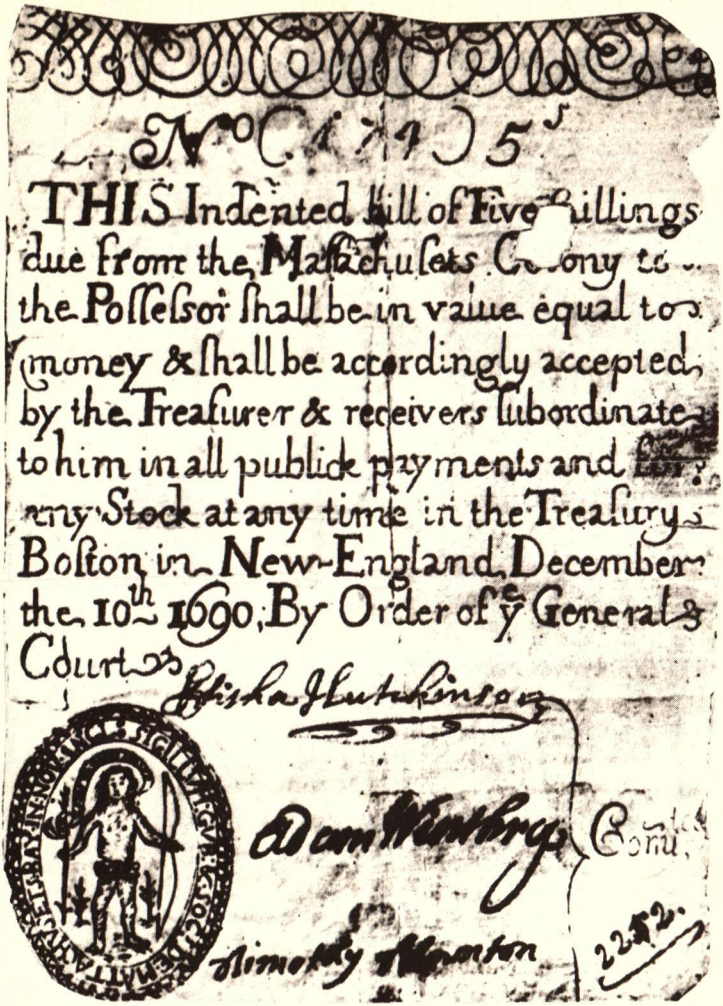

"Why," she exclaimed, "this is a coincidence, for just yesterday there was a western descendant of the Boston Billings here doing some research on his family geneology, and I assisted him with the references. So I know just what book you want." She left us and in a short while returned with the Billings geneology for the mid 1700's. In no time at all we found that the R. Billings in Corn Hill, Boston, were merchants there from 1735, and that the sale of items such as scales would have been within their sphere of business. The mystery of the English scales offered for sale in the Colony of Massachusetts was finally solved.

There was still the strange label with its reference to foreign monies and their value in "sterling" and "Old Tenor." But here we were on more familiar ground. At home some time spent with Eric Newman's monumental work, The Early Paper Money of America, clearly noted that the paper money of the early Massachusetts Bay Colony was called "Tenor" in 1690 and that several issues of this money were released starting in 1690 and ending in 1741. There were three basic issues. The first was called "Old Tenor," the 1737 issue became "Middle Tenor," and the final issue was called "New Tenor."

Many adults and many students consider history to be a "bore," something that must somehow be endured in order to pass and graduate. To these persons, history is a dead subject that does not and cannot influence their "modern" lives. Somehow these persons forget that when history was being made, it was "modern" for those living it and that those events recorded then have to us the same relationship that current events will have to future generations. History can and does repeat itself and has influenced our lives, just as our history will influence the lives of those who will come after us. With these sobering thoughts in mind, a bit of history that came with our research on "R. Billings" is of current interest.

The label showed that the value of a guinea (21 shillings) had a lawful value of 28 shillings in the Massachusetts Bay Colony. I questioned then why it took 10 pounds and 10 shillings in "Old Tenor" for the same guinea.

To fully understand this, it is necessary to go back in the 1680s when England was engaged in a struggle in Canada with the French and their Indian allies in what later came to be known in the Colonies as the French and Indian Wars. Massachusetts, like the rest of the northern colonies, sent men to these expeditions because these colonies were the target of attacks from the north. After a series of battles and skirmishes that ended when the English finally defeated the French in Canada, the men of Massachusetts returned home. In 1690, in order to pay for the service of these men, Massachusetts issued the first public paper currency in the Western World. The issuance of this paper money was necessary because this Colony, like the rest of the Colonies, did not have any great amount of gold or silver coinage. England kept the American Colonies very short on metallic coinage. What little there was available had to be used to pay for import duties on goods received from England. While seldom noted in many history books, one of the primary causes of the American Revolution was the economic squeeze put on the Colonies by the English authorities. This did much to affect the life and commerce of the American Colonies, and finally culminated in the American Revolution.

On December 10, 1690, the first public paper currency made its debut in the form of 7000 pounds. Successive issues of paper money were released up until 1736. These notes were legal tender for all public payments except for import duties or lighthouse fees. Needless to say, this paper money, having no backing in gold or silver, soon lost most of its value and inflation set in. By 1736(7), the value of this first issue of paper money had been so eroded that Massachusetts was forced to devalue it by printing a new issue to replace the earlier one. On February 4, 1736(7), the new paper money was issued and called "New Tenor" or "Three Fold Tenor." This came about because one of the new bills had a value equal to three times the old or original bills. The original bills were then called "Old Tenor" to distinguish them from the "New Tenor." As one can well imagine,

About the Author

A. George Mallis was born in Springfield, Massachusetts and attended Worcester Polytechnic Institute and Lafayette College, obtaining from the latter a B.S. in Civil Engineering in 1939 and a Civil Engineering degree in 1942. Following seven years of active duty with the United States Army during World War II, he entered into private practice as a consulting engineer, a profession he was active in until his retirement in 1979 as the head of an architect-engineering firm in Springfield, Massachusetts.

The author of several books, he co-authored with Leroy C. Van Allen the Comprehensive Catalogue and Encyclopedia of U.S. Morgan and Peace Silver Dollars which was selected as "Book of the Year" for 1977 by the Numismatic Literary Guild. Mallis has also been the recipient of an ANA Bronze Heath Literary Award and a Certificate of Medal. He serves as a guest lecturer at the Institute of Numismatic and Philatelic Studies at Adelphi University, and is a member of the staff of First Coinvestors, Inc. of Albertson, New York.

this caused a great deal of difficulty and suffering among those who had a substantial amount of the "Old Tenor" and saw its value reduced to one third almost overnight. Inflation continued at so rapid a rate, that by 1741(2) Massachusetts was forced to print a second issue of "New Tenor" which had a value of four times the "Old Tenor." The issue of 1736 became known as "Middle Tenor" and the 1741 issue became the "New Tenor."

Finally, on March 21, 1749(50), the English government sent the Massachusetts Colony the sum of 183,649 pounds sterling to pay for its share in the French and Indian Wars fought some fifty years before. Massachusetts used this money to redeem the paper it had issued and did so for a period of one year. The exchange rate was as follows:

1. For the "Old Tenor": One Spanish milled dollar with a lawful value of 6 shillings for 45 shillings in paper.
2. For the "New Tenor" or "Middle Tenor": One Spanish milled dollar with a lawful value of 6 shillings for 11 shillings 3 pence in paper.

This brought to a sad end this early experiment in paper money that did not have any metallic backing of gold or silver. The Massachusetts Bay colonist had to learn this economic lesson the hard way, but only time will tell if the government will ever find the wisdom to learn from the past and quit making the same mistakes which history has already proven to be folly.

Albert R. Frey, Numismatist

by

David R. Cervin, ANA 65523

"It shall be my endeavor to make this association one of research, rather than consider it simply an association whose members confer only to exhibit the special treasures which they have amassed. And to carry out the above principles I think it best to encourage the specialist and discourage the general collector." The speaker: Albert R. Frey. The year: 1904. The occasion: The induction of Mr. Frey as president of the ANA.

It may be hard to justify Frey's position upon assuming the presidency of the ANA in 1904. Should a president express the same goal today, he could conceivably reduce our progressive 32,000 member-strong society to a mere shadow of its present prestigious position. But times were different then, and we are in no position today to be critical of Albert Frey. The total membership in 1904 barely reached the hundred mark, and many of those first members were true students of numismatics. It was Frey's desire that all members specialize in only one or

What really worried Frey was that, to quote him, "The general collector is like a sponge, absorbing everything, frequently irrespective of condition or historical importance, and in a few years he sees the utter hopelessness of obtaining a specimen of every coin ever issued and as a consequence he abandons the pursuit in despair." Conversely, Frey felt that, "The specialist devotes his energies toward perfecting that particular series that he is interested in, and by diligent study and careful acquisition his collection in course of time is certain to be of historical value."

It is evident that Frey demanded perfection, or at least near perfection, of his confreres. It was an intensity he demanded foremost of himself, and while his remarkable accomplishments made him a model for others to pattern themselves after, it wasn't easy for Frey to find a working situation which lived up to his standards.

Early in his career, as a cataloguer in the old Astor Library in New York City, Frey developed a card-index filing system which was later modified and adopted, but his pioneer work received scant recognition and no reward. To Frey the librarians were dullards with no ability to see or recognize improved methods, and so he resigned his job and moved on to teaching.

Originally trained as a school teacher, Frey became principal and head instructor in a public school on Long Island. His enthusiasm for any study in which he was interested made him impatient with scholars who were dull or lazy; consequently, he concentrated on those who showed signs of intelligence. The majority did not benefit by his system of instruction, the less gifted complained that he "played favorites," and again he left his job in disgust.

Frey's youth had been quite promising. Born in New York City in 1858, he entered the College of the City of New York at the tender age of thirteen. But his genius seemed questionable when he would not apply himself to any task he was not interested in. Later, without instruction, he acquired a thorough knowledge of mathematics, ancient and modern languages, philology, Egyptology, and numismatics. Even as a boy he had been interested in philately, and the bent of his mind was indicated by the methodical precision with which he assorted his stamps. In fact, an early publication of Frey's was in philately, "Auction Record of the Encased Postage Stamps," printed in 1902.

After abandoning teaching Frey accepted a position in the New York Custom House, and finally here found a niche for himself. His ability as a linguist and mathematician made calculations and translations easy for him, and he enjoyed the work for over thirty years. Although in failing health for the last two years of his life, he continued with his work at the New York Custom House to within several months of his death on February 19, 1926. There is no doubt that Frey loved his work and was held in the highest esteem by his co-workers and superiors in marked contrast to his two short-lived jobs in the library and as a school teacher in which impatience with his colleagues and underlings and their indifference to his superior ability and accomplishments, resulted in his early resignation.

As mentioned earlier, philately was Frey's first love, beginning when he was a boy and extending past his fortieth year. But coins also attracted him early in life, and he amassed some superb specialty collections in the eighties and nineties. It will be recalled that Frey advocated specialties in collecting, and he was certainly one to practice what he preached. The subjects to which he devoted his attention were Siege and Necessity Pieces; the medals, coins and tokens relating to Shakespeare and the dramas; chess and playing cards; and, most of all, elephants. His pieces relating to the latter subject comprise between three and four hundred varieties, and included some of this topical pursuit's greatest rarities along with several unpublished specimens. While Frey was a confessed specialist, he freely admitted that the numismatist proper is the result of a process of evolution. For his part, Frey was never found wanting when called upon to assist the young collector, or those less advanced in the science.

At the St. Louis Exposition in 1904 (the same year that Frey was elevated to the ANA presidency and the locale of that year's convention), Frey probably outdid all others in exhibiting coins. Frey exhibited a collection of twenty silver obsidional pieces including complete sets for the siege of Groningen in 1672; the rare 16 öre Klippe of Erik XIV of Sweden in 1562; and the large lozenge shaped coins of Leyden, Salzburg, and West Frisia. Had there been a Howland Wood Award for Best of Show, Frey no doubt would have won it, but this was long before awards were given for exhibits, and Howland Wood was an exhibitor along with Frey.

If Albert Frey had one weakness above all others it was for elephants, not only elephants on coins, but for the real live ones. Though he was obviously pleased when presented a souvenir elephant card by the manager at the Siam Building during the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair, his special delight was the elephants on the Pike. When he ran across the two little elephants at each side of the Hagenbeck Show he was overjoyed. It was difficult to tell which were the most pleased, the little fellows when they saw him coming with his pockets stuffed with peanuts or Frey himself. They soon learned to pick him out of a dense crowd at a distance of seventy-five feet and trumpeted their satisfaction in a manner which pleased the onlookers and rivaled the attractions of the show inside. So much so, that the authorities had to forbid the side attraction!

Frey joined the ANA in 1900 and became so active that he was chosen vice president in 1901. Three years later he became president for a three year stint. When the association assumed the charge of the publication of The Numismatist in 1911,there was only one person to be editor - Albert R. Frey. It was during the next five years that Frey produced his greatest works, resulting in his being awarded the coveted Huntington Medal in 1924 by the American Numismatic Society, one of the world's most prestigious awards in numismatics. Through the years it has principally gone to European scholars; for an American to receive this award represented a tremendous accomplishment.

Two of Frey's works particularly stand out. The better known by today's generation, though not his finest achievement, is A Dictionary of Numismatic Names. First printed in the American Journal of Numismatics, Vol. L, 1916, it was hailed as an epic and was reprinted by the American Numismatic Society in book form in 1917. It is still preeminent in the field of numismatic dictionaries. With few original copies left, and a great demand, large runs of reprints were printed in 1947, 1973 and 1978. The 1947 reprint contains Mark M. Salton's translation into five languages. There has been no numismatic dictionary printed since which has made this one obsolete. For this work alone Frey was deservant of the Huntington Medal.

But in my opinion, Frey's real bid to permanent enshrinement as an unforgettable numismatist came from The Dated European Coinage Prior to 1501. Not one numismatist in five hundred has ever seen such a coin, and ownership of even a single coin is probably less than one in five thousand. Worldwide there are not over two score of serious collectors in this specialty. And yet these coins represent the very beginning of what appear on all of today's coins, namely Anno Domini dates.

First published in the American Journal of Numismatics in 1914, by the American Numismatic Society, its acclamation was immediate. A private printing of 100 copies was made by Marvin and Son, Boston publishers, in 1915. Then an interesting development occurred . . . during the next generations the knowledge that these coins even existed became almost lost. Frey's book only gathered dust. Frey, insofar as his greatest work was concerned, was a forgotten man.

During the latter sixties, of the thousand or so coin shops in this country, only one or two could dig up a coin with a date preceding 1500, and most of them had neither seen nor heard of such coins. So "lost" was this information that standard texts on this period were often in substantial error in their statements, or they failed to say anything. For example, Reinfeld and Hobson's Catalogue of the World's Most Popular Coins, published in 1969, pictures the Half Guldengroschen of Sigesmund of Tyrol, 1484, and states, "This coin is the first full dated coin ever struck." But 55 years before this publication, Frey had listed 253 coins having Anno Domini dates preceding 1484! (Recently quite a few more have been uncovered.)

Indeed, Frey was and still is the world's greatest authority on early Anno Domini dated coins. It is safe to say that no researcher in any field of numismatics has advanced his area of study as much as Frey did with his. The defense of this statement lies in the fact that Frey was and almost still is the only true scholar in this field, whereas most other fields of numismatics have a multiple number of accomplished researchers.

No worthwhile book on numismatics is easy to write. Normally much research is required with the extensive study of many coins. But here Frey started out with two strikes against him. Not only did he fail to possess coins predating AD 1500, but he also found very few among his peers. To quote Frey in his book's Introduction, "The majority of them are not in the cabinets of collectors in this country, and consequently it was a matter of rent in Turkey and Asia Minor. It weighs from two to three grains.

The name appears to be derived from the Aspry, of the modern Greeks, being "white" money, as distinguished from the copper.

In the Tunis currency the Asper is divided into twelve Boorbes.

The name is also given to a silver coin current in Rhodes in the fourteenth century and later. It was issued by the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, and is the same as the Denier of Western Europe. There is a series of them struck at Tripoli, under the Commenes, from Manuel I (1238-1263) to Alexis IV (1417-1447), and they were copied in Georgia under Georgi VIII (1452-1469).

In 1492 it was computed in Venice at 20 Torresi, and in 1677 it was coined in the Republic of Genoa for the Levantine trade.

Aspriene. Du Cange cites ordinances which indicate that this was a name given to the Soldo d'Oro struck at the mint of Ravenna.

Assarion. The Greek diminutive form of the Latin word As (q.v.).

Assarius. The fourth part of the Follis (q.v.). It was introduced by Diocletian, and corresponds to the Dekanummion of the Byzantine Empire.

Assignat. The name given to a species of paper money first issued in France pursuant to an order of the National Assembly of April 19, 1790. The Republic issued them in denominations from 10,000 Livres to 5 Livres, as well as a smaller currency called Appoints as low as ten Sous.

As there was an inadequate gold or silver redemption fund their value soon depreciated to one-sixth of their original worth. By an order of the Directorate of February 19, 1795, they were abolished, and the holders were permitted to exchange them for a new variety of paper money called the Mandat. This also became worthless in a short time.

Essays of Assignats for 100, 50, 25, and 5 Livres struck in white metal and copper were issued in 1791.

Assis. The Roman As (q.v.).

Assis, plural Asses. A base silver coin of the value of six Kreuzer issued in Basle, Strasburg, and Luxemburg during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries.

In the Luxemburg coinage it represents a Sol or Sou, and a necessity piece of 72 Asses was issued during the siege of Luxembourg by the French, in 1795. See Mailliet (73, 1).

Atia. A copper coin struck for the Portuguese Indies at Diu, with a corresponding half. The issue appears to have been begun under Joseph I about 1750 and was continued until 1851. The reverses usually exhibit a cross with the four figures of the date in the angles. The value of the Atia was fifteen Reis or twenty Bazarucos.

Atkinson. See Arbenius.

Atmah. A gold coin of Akbar, Emperor of Hindostan, equal to one-fourth of the Elkamah (q.v.).

Atrebatensis. See Artesienne.

Atribuo. See Judenpfennige.

Atsida, plural Atsidor or Atsidorna. An expression used by Swedish numismatists to signify the obverse of a coin or medal. It is a compound word meaning "the side toward the person." See Framsida.

Att. A Siamese copper coin, the sixty-fourth part of the Tical (q.v.). In the former Cambodian coinage the Att represented the one four-hundredth of the Tical.

Attestal. In the constitution of Erik VII of Denmark, 1269, this monetary denomination is mentioned, and Du Cange states that it was current for a Tremissis, or third part of a Solidus.

Aubonne. The name given to a variety of Ecu struck for Lorraine and Bar, by Monsieur d'Aubonne, the director of the mint from 1724 to 1728. See De Saulcy, (Pl. xxxii).

Auferstehungsthaler, i.e., Resurrection Thaler. See Schmalkaldischer Bundesthaler.

Aughpe Polleten. See Polleten.

Augustalis. A gold coin issued by the Emperor Frederick II as king of the Two Sicilies. They were struck at Brindisi from 1197 to 1220, and were valued at one and a quarter gold Gulden. The design on these pieces is copied from the Roman considerable difficulty to obtain accurate descriptions, as catalogues and other books of reference had to be relied on." That he even approached the assignment, and then finished it, is a tribute to his tremendous talent and tenacity.

The decade of the seventies, however, has seen much new work done in early Anno Domini dated coins. In 1978 Sanford J. Durst gathered this information and included it as four supplements in the first reprinting ever of Frey's work published in 1915.

These works, the Dictionary and Early Anno Domini Dated Coins, are Frey's monumental epics. However he has other publication credits. In 1901, he wrote "The Copper Coins of the United States Being the Actual Price Realized for Coins at Auction During 1900-1901." From 1903-1907, Frey developed "Tokens and Medals Relative to Numismatics and Coin Dealers" and in 1914, he wrote "The Coinage of the First German, African, and Asiatic Companies." Naturally he had many articles in The Numismatist and other numiusmatic publications.

Albert R. Frey was a joiner. His linguistic talents and broad numismatic interests were the impetuses for joining clubs in all parts of the world. We have already seen that he joined ANA in 1900. Other organizations he belonged to and the year he joined were: Dutch Numismatschen Geselleschaft, 1903; Royal Numismatic Society (English), 1905; French Societe Royale de Numismatique Belge, 1907; American Numismatic Society, 1910; and Numismatic Society of India, 1911. Frey's finest work was with the American Numismatic Society, and for this he became a Fellow of the Society in 1917.

His record of activity with the New York Numismatic Club is hard to emulate. Co-founder in 1908, he served as the club's first vice president 1908-1919, and as president, 1919 and 1921. Twelve years continuously as vice president, and then two years as president! Do we still have such giants operating at club level today? No doubt, but they are unquestionably few and far between.

Albert R. Frey was enshrined in the Numismatic Hall of Fame in 1972. Frey was not selected as a charter member in 1970, along with his confreres, George Heath, Howland Wood, Farran Zerbe and others, but that's not too surprising considering that his greatest work was lost to numismatists for over fifty years. Once his work surfaced again in 1970, there was nothing to stop his election to the Numismatic Hall of Fame.

Although we are primarily concerned with Frey's numismatic activities, no biography concerning him would be complete without mentioning the fact that he was a Shakespearean scholar. He was one of the founders of the Shakespeare Society of New York, its first vice president, and during his last 30 years served as its secretary. He was the author of Shakespeare and Alleged Spanish Prototypes and Masques: A Dictionary of Literary Disguises, Sobriquests and Nicknames among others.

Much could be written of the personal side of this unique personality. As described in his obituary, published in The Numismatist, April 1926, he was brilliant in conversation, pronounced in his opinions, occasionally hasty in his prejudices, none too careful in his dress, and extravagant in his loyalty to his friends. He was generous and hospitable, and, as one of his friends remarked, if his means had permitted he would have kept perpetual open house. Although, to quote another of his friends, "Frey knew everything about money except how to acquire it." For posterity Frey remains a very special individual, a brilliant scholar and a dedicated hobbyist whose place in numismatic history will never be denied.

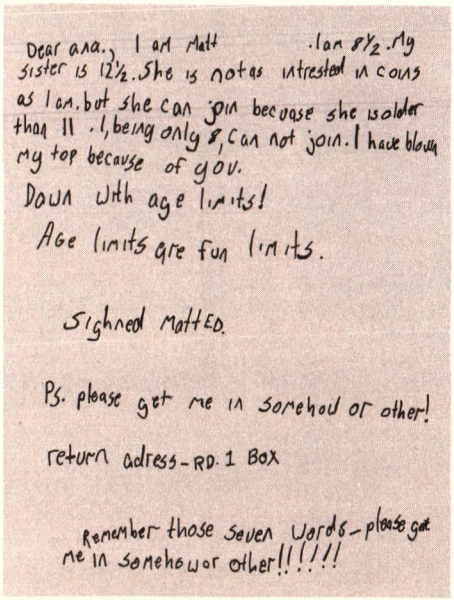

NUMISMATIC VIGNETTES

by Glenn B. Smedley

■ Our Federal Charter states that, among other objects, the ANA shall "bring the numismatists of America into closer relations with one another and promote friendly feelings for one another . . . ." Maybe, being composed of and managed by mere humans, the Association falls short of fulfilling its purposes now and then. It's pretty obvious that Matt E. D., whose recent letter is reproduced here, thinks so.

Heeding his injunction to "please get me in somehow or other," the membership department suggested that he get his sister to join and let him take advantage of her benefits until he reaches the magic age of 11. No reply yet but we're waiting hopefully.

Dear ana., I am Matt .Iam 8½. My sister is 12½. She is not as intrested in coins as I am. but she can join because she is older than 11 . I, being only 8, can not join. I have blown my top because of you.

Down with age limits!

Age limits are fun limits.

Sighned MattED.

P.S. please get me in somehow or other!

return adress - RD. 1 Box

Remember those seven words - please get me in somehow or other!!!!!!

■ Many, indeed most Senior Citizen Collectors (SCC) have lost the excitement and thrill of finding something new and significant in numismatic material. But it can happen!

A friend of mine was handed a few small not-very-attractive old military-style medals recently and, contrary to his usual practice, he looked them over rather carefully before laying them aside. Believe it or not, one of them bore the signature of a famous early twentieth centruy medallist. Knowing the great interest of this SCC in the works of Victor D. Brenner, the friend brought it to me and I added a piece to my collection of which I was not aware.

It depicts both sides of the Great Seal of the United States, with "CC" added to the lower part of the pyramid. A quotation from McCrea's "In Flanders Fields" has been added to the obverse. It is 29mm, bronze, and is suspended by a tricolor ribbon from a bar pin.

EXONUMIA NOTEBOOK

by David Schenkman and Joseph Levine

Beck's Public Baths

This token has always been the subject of speculation by collectors of early merchant tokens. Although knowledgeable specialists have assumed that it was issued during the "hard times" period of 1833-1844, no proof has been found. As a matter of fact, it has never been established positively that the token is really from Richmond, Virginia, as it is listed by Adams.

Recently a collector friend who lives in Richmond researched the merchant and found the following information in the Richmond City Deed Book of October 1832: Beck's Public Baths was located on the south side of Main Street, between 13th and 14th Streets. The building was leased by a confectioner by the name of Charles Beck and operated as a public bath. In addition, tax records reveal that Beck operated the bath through the year 1844.

The token, normally found in copper, is not especially scarce, although most specimens have seen a good deal of wear. Uncirculated examples should be considered quite rare. The piece was also struck in white metal and German silver, and these are very rare. I would be interested in hearing from members owning tokens in these metals. D.E.S.

"What Is It" Identified

In the August 1979 "Exonumia Notebook" column a piece was illustrated which was owned by a collector who had been unable to learn anything of its origin. As a result of many letters from readers of this column, the mystery has been solved.

According to our correspondents, the piece was struck in the late 1960s on a roller press developed for the U.S. Mint by General Motors. Dies were made to approximate actual coins, but with meaningless lettering so that they could not be mistaken for real coins. The number struck has not been learned.

Coin World had a story on these "coins," and they illustrated a different variety from ours. Their piece had been found in circulation "in the general area of the GM plant that worked on the press." Evidently some pieces were kept by GM employees. D.E.S.

The authors encourage comments, suggestions, and additional information on reported pieces from readers, and ask that all inquiries be directed to David E. Schenkman, P. O. Box 375, Bryans Road, MD 20616.

ROMAN COIN PROJECT

by David R. Cervin, ANA 65523

Originated and administered by David R. Cervin, the Roman Coin Project is a program specially designed for junior members of the ANA to earn Roman and Byzantine coins for their activities in numismatics. Up to eight coins can be earned, four Roman coins in the initial program, and four Byzantine coins in the advanced section.

In the initial program, the first three coins can be earned from numismatic participation in three of six categories: educational presentations, exhibiting, writing, club office, show committee chairmanship, or receiving a badge in numismatics from your youth group. The fourth coin must be earned by completing the ANA's Young Numismatists Correspondence Course. In the advanced program, coin number five is earned by signing up a new ANA member, coin number six by signing up two additional members, coin number seven for the publication of at least 500 words in a major numismatic publication, and coin number eight for planning and executing an exhibit of the coins earned thus far in the program.

For further information or a Roman Coin Request Form write David R. Cervin, 6201 Adirondack, Amarillo, TX 79106.

What is a rare coin? Any coin, generally on the old side (but not necessarily), that exist in small numbers and is therefore hard to find may be termed rare. Metal, be it gold, silver, platinum, copper, bronze, aluminum, or any other, does not determine rarity. Of course, other factors being equal, a rare gold or silver coin is worth more than a rare bronze coin.

What makes a coin desirable? Any coin which has extraordinary characteristics can be desirable. The 1486 Guldengroschen of Sigismund of Tyrol, though much less rare than most other early dated coins, is especially desirable because it was the first coin in the late European medieval period to be larger than our silver dollar. (Don't try to buy this coin unless you have about $1500 to spare.)

Just what does rare and desirable have to do with the Roman Coin Project? Listen carefully. How would you like to have a Roman coin that is both rare and desirable? Furthermore how would you, a non-member of the RCP Club, like to receive this coin as the first Roman coin that you can earn in this program? I have just recently set aside thirty rare and desirable Roman coins to go to the first thirty new participants in the RCP. The coins from this group are all from Valentian II, Arcadius or Theodosius I, all reigning after AD 379, the year Theodosius made Christianity the official religion of the Roman state and banned the worship of the old Roman gods. The coins are a mere 15 x 20 mm in diameter, reflecting the shortage of metal during this period of the Roman state's decline.

But what makes these coins desirable? Do you read The Numismatist? Try James B. Casey's "Roman Coins as Historical Documents" in the January, 1980 issue. Casey states, ". . .the overwhelming emphasis of fourth century coinage was away from religion entirely," and ". . .apart from. . .some sporadic issues, the reverses of fourth century Roman coinage moved away from the most burning issue of that period—religion." The conclusion we are interested in from this article is that Roman coins from the 4th century showing Christian symbolism are scarce, thus this particular group of Roman coins being offered is rarer than most coins earned in the RCP.

But what makes this coin especially desirable? Western civilization is pretty well based on Christianity. And so one of the earliest coins to feature Christian symbolism would be desirable even if it was common. But in this case it is not common. Therefore it is both rare and desirable. And remember, the first thirty new participants to the Roman Coin Project will receive one of these coins which is both rare and desirable!

But let's be fair with the veterans of this program who may have never received a coin having some form of Christian symbolism on it. To this group, the next time you write in for an earned coin tell me you would specifically like one having a Christian cross, and I will send a coin from this special group.

1980 YOUNG NUMISMATIST AWARDS

Florence M. Schook, chairwoman of the ANA YN program, has announced thirteen awards to be given in connection with the Young Numismatist Collectors Program of the ANA for 1980. These awards are given by the Association, organizations, and individuals interested in encouraging the participation of YN's in numismatics. The thirteen awards are designated as follows:

(1) The ANA Young Numismatist Literary Award
(2) The Gould Memorial Award
(3) The Ray Byrne Literary Award
(4) The Florence Schook Outstanding Young Numismatist Award
(5) The Outstanding Adult Leader or Advisor Award—Anonymous
(6) The Charles E. Wolfe Class C (Y.N.) Convention Exhibit Award
(7) The Gordon Z. Greene U.S. Exhibit Award
(8) The James L. Betton Foreign Exhibit Award
(9) The Kurt Krueger Paper Money Exhibit Award
(10) The Melissa Van Grover Israel or Judaic Exhibit Award
(11) The Arlie Slabaugh Medals and Tokens Exhibit Award
(12) The Charles E. Wolfe Medieval & Ancient Exhibit Award
(13) The Alan Herbert Error/Variety Exhibit Award

Qualifications for all of these awards (except No. 5) are that the contestants be junior members (ages 11 through 17) of the ANA at the time of their achievements, although they may have become adults when the awards are actually presented at the St. Louis Convention in 1979; their achievements must have been originated and carried out on their own; and their entries must be received by Chairwoman Florence Schook no later than June 15, 1980.

In the case of written articles, there is no minimum or maximum limit or length. The manuscript must be typed or printed on 8 1/2" by 11" sheets, doublespaced, and on one side only of the paper; and it must bear the author's name, ANA number, affiliations with other numismatic organizations, a short biographical sketch, and his or her black and white glossy photograph. In all cases, the decisions of the judges shall be final.

An article once submitted may be resubmitted for judging in a future year if the author has done further research on the subject matter and the article is revised substantially. However, should the author pass the eligible age of junior status, the article or manuscript cannot be further altered, edited, or otherwise changed for resubmission. An article or manuscript may only be submitted in one category.

A manuscript or article may be submitted by an officer or editor of a local, state, or regional organization, but all rules herein must apply. In case an article is submitted by other than the author, the written permission of the author for such submission must be treated as if submitted by the author himself or herself.

Rules and qualifications for the individual awards are as follows:

(1) As the name implies, this is a literary award to be presented to the YN who writes the best essay or gives the best talk on a numismatic subject. The information may be from original research or may have been gathered from various sources, but credit must be given by the author for his source or sources. Original conclusions are encouraged, particularly when logically presented. Manuscripts will be judged for their content, general interest, and literary excellence. The award will be a plaque.

(2) This is an educational award to be made to the junior author of the best article submitted. Each entrant is expected to have conducted in depth research of his area of interest going beyond information previously published in standard numismatic reference works, and his article must demonstrate individual and specialized involvement with his topic. The article submitted may have been published or not, and may have been submitted to a local, state, or regional organization in competition or for publication. The award will be in the form of a plaque.

(3) Qualifications and rules for this award are the same as the preceding (2) except that the article must have been published in The Numismatist, Coin World, Numismatic News, or any other accredited numismatic publication.

(4) This award is given to the YN judged most deserving of it over the year from May 1, 1979, through April 30, 1980. Selection of the recipient shall be on a similar basis as the ANA award to the Outstanding Club Representative, on a cumulative point basis for consideration of nominee's numismatic services rendered. Eligibility shall be on a local, area, or regional basis; and nominations may be made by any ANA individual or club member. Talks given before numismatic or educational groups, papers published (including locally), enthusiasm for numismatics and leadership in local numismatic circles will all be considered in the awarding of points.

(5) This award shall be presented to the adult judged to have contributed most toward the encouragement of young numismatists. Nominations for this award may be made by individual or club members of the ANA or by educators. (In Michigan, it is necessary that junior and senior high school clubs have adult faculty advisors; and for this reason it is felt that educators, properly identified, should be allowed to submit to nominations.) The qualities to be considered in awarding points are: time; knowledge; educational contributions such as books, papers, etc.; leadership in ethical and moral standards; ability to organize, attract new members to the hobby, etc. Monetary contributions shall not be considered a basis for this award.

(6) ANA junior members may enter exhibits in Class C at annual ANA Conventions. This award will be made to the young numismatist whose exhibit in this class is judged best in accordance with exhibit rules; identical standards applying to adult exhibits will prevail. Young Numismatist exhibitors shall mount, prepare, and place their own exhibits. This is, in effect, the Young Numismatist "Best in Show."

(7) Qualifications and rules for the Gordon Z. Greene Award are the same as for the preceding (6) except that only exhibits of United States material will be considered in competition for it.

(8) Qualifications and rules for the James L. Betton Award are the same as for the Class C (Young Numismatist) ANA Convention Exhibit Award (6) except that only exhibits of U.S. or Foreign Paper Money will be considered in competition for it.

(9) Qualifications and rules for the Kurt Krueger Paper Money Exhibit Award are the same as for the Class C ANA Convention Exhibit Award (6) except that only exhibits of paper money will be considered in competition for it.

(10) Qualifications and rules for the Melissa Van Grover Award are the same as for the Class C ANA Convention Exhibit Award (6) except that only exhibits of Israel or Judaic numismatic material will be considered in competition for it. In the event there is no qualifying exhibit, the award may be given to a deserving exhibit at the discretion of the judges.

(11) Qualifications and rules for the Arlie Slabaugh Award are the same as for the Class C ANA Convention Exhibit Award (6) except that only exhibits of medals and/or tokens will be considered in competition for it.

(12) Qualifications and rules for this Charles E. Wolfe Exhibit Award are the same as for the Class C ANA Convention Exhibit Award (6) except that only exhibits of medieval, ancient and related numismatic material will be considered in competition for it.

(13) Qualifications and rules for the Alan Herbert Award are the same as for Class C ANA Convention Exhibit Award (6) except that only exhibits of error, varieties, etc., will be considered in competition for it.

Those wishing to enter or submit an entry for any of the awards (No.'s 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5) should contact Florence M. Schook, P.O. Box 2014, Livonia, MI 48154. Those wishing to submit an entry for an exhibit award (No.'s 6, 7, 8, 9. 10, and 11) should write for exhibit rules and information to the exhibit chairman, Jerry King, 820 Cascade Rd., Cincinnati, OH 45240.

New Series of Counterfeits Seen

Counterfeit

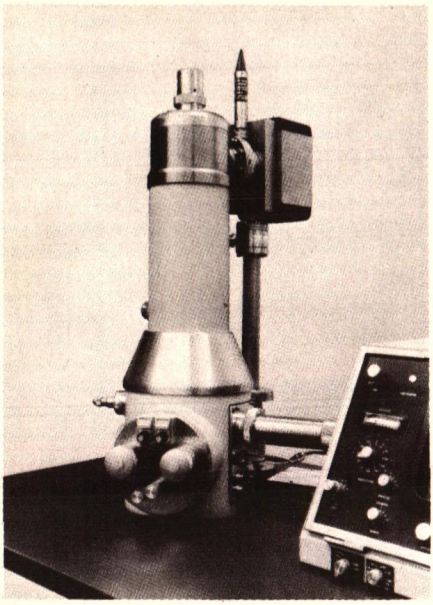

The ANA Certification Service has now seen four examples of what could well be an extensive series of die-struck counterfeit U.S. type coins. The pieces seen so far include an 1803 large cent (illustrated), two cent pieces dated 1865 and 1872, and an 1811/09 dime.

In each case the dies seem to have been copied from a genuine coin via a spark erosion process, a rather crude method which leaves numerous lumps and depressions on the dies. These new markings are then transferred in opposite relief to the coins struck from these dies, along with any other markings caused by damage to the model coin.

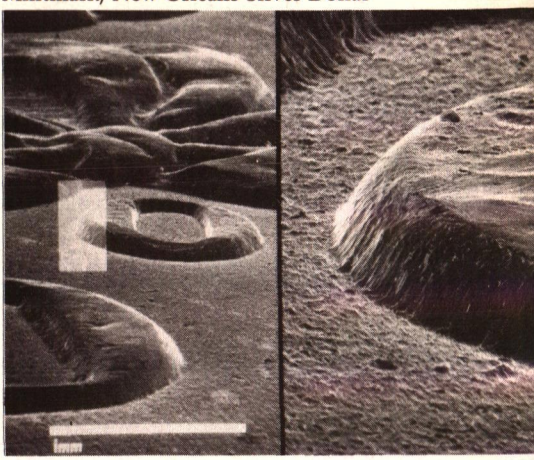

On the 1803 large cent (an S-260, the most common variety of that year) the counterfeiter tried to remove some of these markings from his die, leaving a series of raised, vertical tooling marks on Miss Liberty's throat. On the 1811/09 dime the dies came out much better, with only a few raised patches of metal in the field opposite Miss Liberty's chin and inside the eagle's (viewer's left) wing. However, the counterfeiter could not duplicate the reeded edge of the latter piece, his attempt consisting of nothing more than a series of shallow cuts that overlap in places.

An interesting sidelight of this counterfeiter's activities, if indeed these pieces were all done by the same person or group, is that he is simulating pattern and/or error coins as well. The 1865 two cent piece seen was struck on a .900 fine silver planchet, while the 1872 two cent piece was first struck normally and then struck a second time off center. If these coins are an indication of things to come, then collectors of type, pattern and error coins should each be on the alert.

ANACS Acquires Scanning Electron Microscope

Mintmark, New Orleans Silver Dollar

Using a similar model to the scanning electron microscope seen at left, ANACS personnel can now obtain photographic records like those above detailing a coin's surface magnified from 5-× to 300,000-×.

Some of the most highly sophisticated magnification equipment in existence has been added to the facilities of the ANA's Certification Service. A scanning electron microscope (SEM) with a continuous zoom magnification from 5-X to 300,000-X was built for ANACS by Advanced Medals Research Corp. (Amray) of Bedford, Mass., and is being housed in a room specially constructed for its use in the ANA headquarters basement.

The power and potential use of this equipment is indicated by the example that at 3,000-X magnification it gives a range of fine definition 300 times greater than is possible through the finest optical microscope. "For example," explained Ed Fleischmann of the ANACS' staff, "to examine a suspicious mintmark, the most expensive optical microscope, even set at 60-X and focused sharply on the face of a coin's mintmark, will show the surrounding field as blurred. Or, if you focus the optical microscope upon the adjoining field, the face of the mintmark will be blurred."

"Use of the SEM will augment the reliability of our decisions regarding the authenticity of coins," observed ANACS authenticator Ingrid Smith, "especially of cleverly altered coins of which more are seen as time passes. In other words, it can be used to supply irrefutable evidence to support our expert opinions."

Photographic records made of coins examined by this equipment will enhance the ANACS's growing "rogues' gallery" kept on file.

BOOKMARKS by Nancy Stith, Librarian

All books listed here are available to members on a loan basis from the ANA library. Loan requests should list the book's catalog number.
Members wishing to purchase these books can quite often acquire them from a dealer more quickly and easily than from a publisher. In other cases, write to the address listed with each book.

Donation Enhances Rare Book Collection

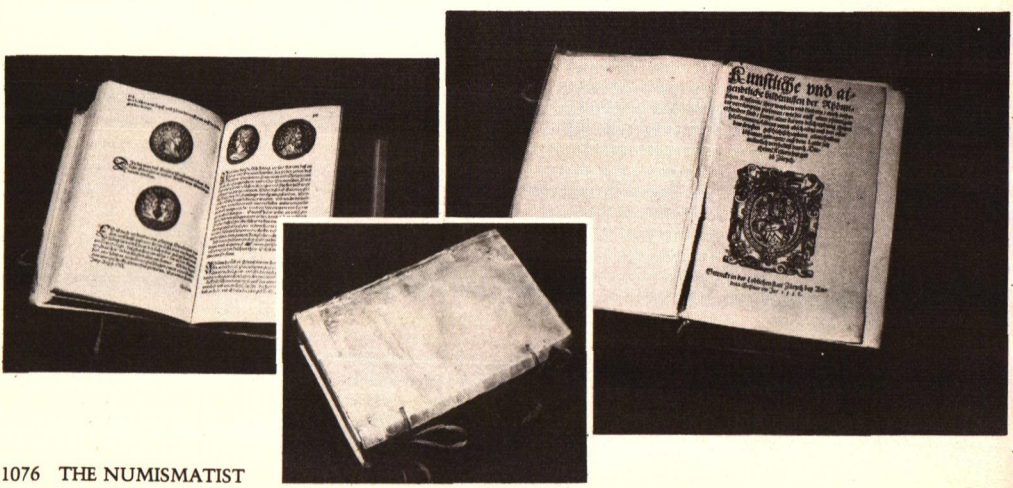

The library has again been the recipient of a magnificent donation. Herb Bergen, past ANA president and present chairman of our building fund drive, has donated three books from his private collection, in addition to contributing the funds to purchase four others from California numismatic book dealer G. Frederick Kolbe.

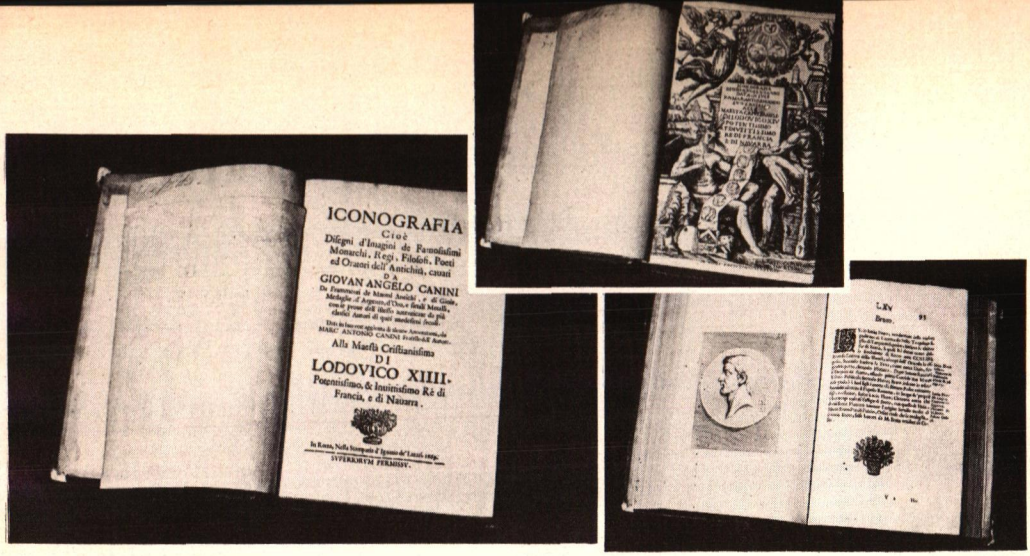

The books donated by Mr. Bergen include one dated 1558, roughly 100 years after Johann Gutenberg printed his Bible, and entitled Kunstliche und Aigendtliche Bildtnussen der Rhömischen Keyseren. Bound in vellum, this lovely little book on portraits of the Roman emperors has a unique feature. The illustrations are wood cuts but the image is white on black rather than the more common, black image on white background. The white line on black background wood engraving became popular at the end of the 17th century but is unusual in a book dated as early as this one.

Another title donated by Mr. Bergen is Iconografia Cioe Disegni d'Imagini de Famofisfimi Monarchi, Regi, Filosofi, Poeti ed Oratori dell' Antichita, cauti da Giovan Angelo Canini, published in Rome in 1669. This volume contains beautifully engraved portraits of various people from antiquity.

Finally, Mr. Bergen gave the library a copy of M. W. Dickeson's American Numismatical Manual with nineteen colored plates, including an especially nice one depicting wampum. This book was published in 1859.

The books purchased from Kolbe will significantly help to fill a gap in the ANA library collection of books dealing with the coinage of medieval Europe. Feld-, Noth- und Belagerungsmünzen, by August Brause-Mansfeld contains material from virtually every major European country including Russia. The other volumes all concern areas in present day Germany. The titles are Der Brakteatenfund von Bokel bei Bevern Kreis Bremer Vörde by Ortwin Meier, Die Münzen der Freien Reichsstadt Nürnberg by Hans-Jörg Kellner, and Münzen und Medaillen des Hauses Stolberg und die Geschichte Seines Münzwesens by Karl Friederich. They all contain extensive illustrations and marvelous plates which will help with identification of unknown pieces.

These books have been added to the ANA library's rare book collection, and may be used by members in the library. The library staff will also do limited research if members have questions about a specific numismatic item.

COLLECTING COINS BY DESIGN, by William T. Radeker. 1978. 67p. Illus. Hard and paper cover. William T. Radeker, 3924 E. 71st St., Cleveland, OH 44105. $14.95 (Hard cover), $4.95 (Paper cover).

This booklet discusses type collecting, an area of numismatics which enables the collector to complete a collection without necessarily spending a great deal of money. The author explains what type sets are and some basics of coin collecting. He devotes one lengthy chapter to various kinds of U. S. type sets and then discusses the coins of Canada, Mexico and the rest of the world. The beginning numismatist especially will find this book helpful because so much basic information about the hobby is included.

CANADIAN WOODEN MONEY, TOKENS AND SOUVENIRS, by Norman E. Wells. 1979. 368p. Illus. Paper cover. Norman Wells, P. O. Box 943, Peterborough, Ontario, Canada K9J 7A5. $20.

This comprehensive catalog contains a wealth of information including background articles on wooden tokens, illustrations of stock designs, a locator index and even a section on Canada oriented U. S. pieces. The catalog itself is arranged by province and includes an illustration, city, company or event portrayed, size, value, date, number issued, color and rarity or numismatic value. Extensive notes on many of the pieces make this publication of historical as well as numismatic interest.

WEIGHING COINS: ENGLISH FOLDING GOLD BALANCES OF THE 18TH AND 19TH CENTURIES, by Michael A. Crawforth. 1979. 194p. Illus. Hard cover. Cape Horn Trading Co., Ltd., 12, New Row, Covent Garden, London, WC2, England. $40.

Michael A. Crawforth has added new excitement to weighing and numismatic history in his recently published study of the English gold coin scale which rises into operating position when its box is opened. The charm of these 18th and 19th century examples of practical gadgetry has now been reinforced with his fascinating scientific study of their many varieties. With this book a reader may more fully realize the extensive and effective use, for almost one century, of the pocket tester for the detection of counterfeits and the measurement of short weight English gold coins then in common circulation.

The author, a professional industrial designer, studied many folding balances and other scales in museums and private collections. He is currently editor of Equilibrium, the magazine of the International Society of Antique Scale Collectors (ISASC), and his book successfully combines all phases of the author's experience and scholarship.

One is almost pleased that enough counterfeit, clipped, sweated or heavily worn gold coins circulated in England to create the need for merchants and traders to buy and carry in their pockets these appealing and delicate instruments. The excellence of profuse drawings prepared by the author, particularly those in perspective, enable the reader to appreciate the intricacy and style features of these weighing devices. The comparative detail of the individual parts show the care with which the research has been conducted to help determine the dates of manufacture, the nature of use, the makers, the improved accuracy and other features of the scales. With photographs of the labels on the scales themselves, the advertisement of them, and references to their history and prior documentation the author has advanced the subject far beyond the listing of some examples by Sheppard and Musham published 57 years ago. The tabular coordination of the history of the folding scale and its detailed construction, the dates of their makers, and the light it throws on other scales of the period makes the book continually useful.—E.P.N.

THE JEFFERSON NICKEL ANALYST, by Bernard A. Nagengast. 1979. Unpaged. Illus. Paper cover. Bernard Nagengast, P. O. Box 103, Sidney, OH 45365. $13.

Another of the recent books on Jefferson nickels is this one, published in the summer of 1979. Covered in the publication are characteristics, capital gain, full steps, grading, storage, design changes, rarity, major varieties and a date by date analysis. The appeal of this series is its affordability, and yet the challenge of completing a set of well struck specimens can be as exciting and difficult as some of the rarer U. S. series.

CATALOGUE OF GREEK PAPER MONEY, by A Tarassouleas. 1980. 158p. Illus. Paper cover. Regency Coin & Stamp Western, Ltd., Lindsay Bldg., 228 Notre Dame Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada R3B 1N7. US $42.

Covering Greek paper money from 1828 to 1979, this catalog will be of interest to any paper money collector. The text is in both Greek and English and begins with a short history of Greek banking and paper money. But the highlight of the book is the beautiful, full color illustrations of the obverse of each note. These illustrations are actual size with the reverses partially pictured, reduced and in black and white. Values for three grades are given in drachmas.

COLLECTING PAPER MONEY AND BONDS, by Colin Narbeth, Robin Hendy and Christopher Stocker. 1979. 119p. Illus. Hard cover. Stanley Gibbons, 395 Strand, London, WC2R OLX, England. $15.80.

This beautifully illustrated book looks at paper money from the collecting point of view, but emphasis is on the historical and artistic significance of specific pieces. The book begins with a chapter of general advice to the collector and continues with the history and development of both paper money and bonds. Marvelous full color illustrations show the appeal of these items. Aimed at the non-collector, this book will be a lovely addition to any numismatist's library. It is obvious that the authors know and enjoy this area of numismatics.

AN OKLAHOMA ADVENTURE OF BANKS AND BANKERS, by James M. Smallwood. 1979. 242p. Illus. Hard cover. University of Oklahoma Press, 1005 Asp Ave., Norman, OK 73019. $9.75.

Beginning with the early 1800's, this publication relates the history of the banking industry in Oklahoma to the present day, with predictions for the future. The emphasis is on the history of the institutions rather than numismatic aspects, however the book is well written and an extensive bibliography is included.

GREEK COIN TYPES AND THEIR IDENTIFICATION, by Richard Plant. 1979. 343 p. Illus. Hard cover. B.A. Seaby, Audley House, 11 Margaret St., London WIN 8AT, England. $24.

Greek coins, while often very beautiful, can also be frustrating to identify, especially since most are not in "mint" condition. This book groups coins by the images which appear on them to enable the collector to identify the piece without resorting to paging through catalogues ad infinitum. The book is illustrated with simplified line drawings which are clear and uncluttered for the easiest identification. In addition to the catalogue itself, background information is given on the Greek alphabet, denominations, and some of the gods or heros who may appear on the coins. A very helpful book, both for the collector of ancients and for the numismatist who occasionally needs to identify one of these coins.

Albuquerque Hosts Successful Midyear Show

Dispelling any doubts still reserved by some concerning the future of ANA's midyear conventions, the ANA's 2nd Midyear Convention held in Albuquerque, New Mexico, February 15-18, proved to be an outstanding success. Living up to its purpose of bringing a scaled-down version of ANA's annual convention to a city and region without the facilities to host the larger summer show, the Albuquerque show offered 193 bourse tables trading in some of the market's most exciting and volatile commodities. And area collectors and non-collectors alike enthusiastically responded with a registration of 3,800 visitors, possibly a record for the Albuquerque Convention Center.

Numismatic luminaries on hand gathered at noon, February 15th, for the official opening ceremonies. Alice King, wife of New Mexico's Governor Bruce King, and ANA staff and officers, including ANA director of grants and endowments Betty Higby, former superintendent of the Denver Mint, joined former U.S. Treasurer Francine Neff as she cut a ribbon of U.S. $2 bills signed by Neff and supplied by ANA governor Chuck O'Donnell.

The bourse floor quickly filled with activity as dealers from all across the United States opened for business under the watchful eye of bourse chairman Hank Schmidt. President of the Albuquerque Coin Club Lewis M. Ross welcomed conventioneers on behalf of the convention's host club. The club's youngest members added color to the bourse floor by wearing matching cowboy hats and serving as "go-fers."

An especially busy table on the convention floor was manned by representatives of the U.S. mint. Stella Hackel, Mint Director, spent much of her time there honoring autograph requests for the Mint's Souvenir Set—a Susan B. Anthony dollar and a bronze Mint medal in an envelope commemorating the Albuquerque convention. Assistant Mint Director Barry Frere also greeted visitors at the Mint display.

Another special souvenir offered at the Albuquerque show was for sale at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing booth. Completing the Educational Series of souvenir cards which BEP issued for ANA conventions from 1971 through 1976, this special issue for the ANA's 2nd Midyear Convention featured the 1896 $5 Silver Certificate reverse bearing portraits of Generals Ulysses S. Grant and Philip Sheridan.

Adding to the congestion in the same area was the booth for ANA's Certification Service. Authenticators Ed Fleischmann and Ingrid Smith found their work was nonstop as dealers and collectors took advantage of their rare close accessibility to obtain an ANACS opinion on various pieces being transacted. And, as usual, there was a healthy turnout for the ANACS mini-seminars, one of ANA's most valuable and popular educational programs.

To either side of the frantic commercial activity, visitors lingered leisurely over the noncompetitive exhibits. Most of the exhibitors came from the West, with the exception of Ruth Hammell of Cumberland, Md. and her collection of Bicentennial $2 Commemorative Notes, both a familiar sight at ANA conventions. Californians Joan Lenker of Redlands and Catherine Edgerton of San Diego displayed Coins of Peter the Great and Coins of the Austrian Ruler Leopold the Hogmouth respectively. Rocky Martinez of Fort Collins, Colo. brought his collection of Civil War currency and replica coins. ANA's sergeant at arms, John Gabarron of Lincoln, Nebr., shared his most prized Spanish-American cut and counterstamped pieces.

Naturally, New Mexico and especially Albuquerque residents took advantage of this opportunity to exhibit at a major show. Jack Reed's display, "Jolly, Jolly Sixpence" traced the history of that British denomination, Ernie Hill offered Medieval and early Spanish Colonial coins, and Bob Duphorne presented select early U.S. quarter and half dollar pieces. New Mexico paper money specialist Roman L. Latimer exhibited choice notes from his personal collection, many of which are the finest surviving specimens known to various banks.

Latimer further elaborated on his collection and the history of currency in New Mexico at the ANA Educational Forum held Friday night. Joining him as speakers were ANA's 1976 convention general chairman, Jackson Storm, who gave a slide presentation on postage and fractional currency, and Coin World's International Editor David T. Alexander, who spoke on the aspect of "Numismatics as Propaganda." Former ANA president Virginia Culver served as the forum's moderator.

While most of the hobby's specialty organizations waited to hold membership meetings until the larger summer show in Cincinnati, members of the International Bank Note Society held a breakfast gathering Saturday, and the Numismatic Error Collectors of America presented a slide program on major error types from 18th and 19th century coinage. The Albuquerque Coin Dealers Association hosted an invitational cocktail reception on Friday evening giving VIP's and fellow dealers a taste of Southwest hospitality.

Another occasion always anticipated by conventioneers is the ANA banquet. With the rush and excitement of bourse activities and meetings drawing to a close, the banquet becomes a time to reflect on the good times had at the show and to share just a few more moments with numismatic friends from all over the world.

In evidence of the ANA's good-natured comraderie, master of ceremonies Paul Whitnah delighted the audience with a gentle "roasting" of ANA executive vice president Edward C. Rochette, while general chairman Evie Kelley and convention coordinator Ruthann Brettell presented Rochette with a surprise birthday cake. Following dinner, exhibit chairman Earl Rush presented plaques to the show's noncompetitive exhibitors and to the educational forum speakers.

While waiting for the evening's scheduled entertainment, MC Whitnah filled in with the best airline jokes he has heard while working with American Airlines, and Eddie Martin of the show's security firm gave an impromptu singing performance. The scheduled entertainment turned out to be well worth the wait however, as the youthful folklore ballet troupe, Los Jovencitos, brought New Mexico's heritage to banquet-goers with the colorful native dances of Mexico's Jalisco state. The group hopes to enter this year's national dance competition in Mexico.

With the closing of the bourse Sunday afternoon, the ANA's 2nd Midyear Convention became another memory to join the tradition of unforgettable ANA shows. Dealers were already speaking of the continuing active market making the summer show in Cincinnati even more exciting, and ANA officials looked forward to the coming 3rd Midyear Convention in Hawaii continuing the success story so well told in Albuquerque.

ANA's Board of Governors reviewed future policy during meetings held at the ANA's convention in Albuquerque.

Summary of Albuquerque Midyear Convention Board Meeting

A meeting of the board of governors was held in several sessions (executive and open) during the midyear convention in Albuquerque, New Mexico, February 13-17. All board members were present, including president George Hatie, vice president Adna Wilde Jr., and governors Q. David Bowers, Grover Criswell, Virgil Hancock, Geneva Karlson, Kurt Krueger, Charles O'Donnell and Florence Schook. Also present were executive vice president Edward Rochette, treasurer William Henderson, legal counsel Richard Dusterberg and convention coordinator Ruthann Brettell. Finance committee chairman John Pittman attended one of the executive sessions. All actions reported herein were by unanimous vote except as otherwise noted.

Mail Vote Confirmed

Approval was given by a mail vote in September 1979 to purchase an AMRAY 1200B scanning electron microscope at a cost of $38,000 for use by ANACS. This action was confirmed. Shipment of this equipment was scheduled by April 1 and a special room to house it has been constructed in the lower level of the headquarters building.

Disciplinary Actions

A number of formal complaints against members were considered in executive session and the following disciplinary actions taken, in all cases by unanimous votes.

John H. A. Grant, R-94398 of Ottawa, Canada, was expelled for failure to return books borrowed from the ANA library.

Alan Grodsky, R-98241 of Garden City, N.Y., was expelled because of being convicted of receiving stolen property and for failure to answer official ANA correspondence relative thereto.

Alan Hager, R-95342 of New York City, was expelled for failure to answer official correspondence regarding an unsatisfactory transaction as Silver Dollar Specialists.

Russell Martin, LM-1598 of Corona, N.Y., was expelled for failure to pay for advertising in The Numismatist and for failure to answer correspondence relating thereto.

Donald J. Muniz, R-63581 of Eatontown, N.J., (East Coast Rare Coin Co.) was expelled because of two convictions of fraud and judgments totaling over $100,000.

Samuel L. Rabinowitz, R-99921 of Cherry Hill, N.J., was expelled for failure to answer ANA correspondence relative to sale of alleged overgraded coins and failure to deliver coins sold and paid for.

Dennis C. Reppert, R-96102 of Leesport, Pa., was expelled for failure to answer ANA correspondence regarding alleged nondelivery of coins purchased from him.

Dr. Karl Stecher, LM-1812 of Denver,

Colo., was expelled for failure to answer ANA correspondence regarding nonpayment for auction lots received.

A. Dean Tomlinson, R-69650 of E. Bridgewater, Mass., was expelled for failure to answer ANA correspondence regarding numerous complaints alleging overgrading (one verified by ANACS) and slow delivery of coins and/or refunding for coins returned by customers.

Several other complaints were studied and either conditional actions were taken or deferred to obtain further information. The board commended Kenneth Hallenbeck and Patricia Yates for the fine résumé of complaints they compiled for the board meeting.

Finances

Approval was given to the revised 1979-80 and the proposed 1980-81 budgets, as prepared and recommended by the finance committee, for ANA and ANACS. The two ANA budgets are balanced at $689,250 and $845,250 respectively, and the two ANACS budgets are balanced at $261,350 and $311,050 respectively. In considering the 1979-80 budgets, one should keep in mind that the fiscal year is for only ten months, the fiscal year end having been advanced to March 31, beginning in 1980 and continuing indefinitely.

With president Hatie abstaining from voting, $5,000 for annual presidential expenses were approved, the president to submit a revised estimate at the annual convention board meeting.

Bylaw Revisions

At the open session of the board a motion was made and passed (governor Karlson only opposing) that the numbered-seat, staggered-term election procedures, used in the 1979 election, be restored and that the bylaws be amended accordingly.

A provision was adopted, replacing the one formerly in Section 4(o) of Article IV but deleted at the August 1979 board meeting, that outlines the procedure to be followed to publicize any proposed bylaw amendments "that would affect the voting rights of members, the eligibility for office, or the structure of the board of governors."

Section 12 of Article VI of the bylaws was amended to provide that, in determining an incumbent candidate's seniority, all of his or her service as a board member shall be included.

Another bylaw action was the creation of a new Section 17 of Article VI to prohibit any governor from becoming a candidate for the office of president or vice president in any election year prior to the year in which his or her term expires, unless the governor resigns his office. The procedure covering such a possible situation is outlined in detail.

Conventions & Related Matters

The executive vice president was directed to purchase souvenir bank notes for sale at the Cincinnati convention from the American Bank Note Company, which provided similar souvenirs for the 1979 St. Louis convention. (Still available: see page 2173, The Numismatist, October, 1979.)

The eligibility age for convention bourse table applicants was lowered to 18 years, effective in 1981, except in cases of conventions held in states where the majority age is higher than 18 years. In such cases the state majority age shall prevail.

A contract for the 1981 New Orleans convention auction was awarded to Bowers & Ruddy Galleries of Los Angeles. (Governor Bowers absented himself from the meeting during the discussion and vote on this item.) William C. Henderson was named general chairman of the 1982 midyear convention to be held February 18-21 at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs. The 1991 annual convention (ANA 100th anniversary) was scheduled tentatively in Chicago, birthplace of the Association.

A motion was passed that no guns be allowed past convention security—in other words—no guns will be allowed on a convention bourse floor.

The board voted that remuneration of $1,000 cash or an ANA life membership be awarded to the host club of future conventions, the choice to be made by the host club.

The executive vice president was authorized to use his discretion relative to purchasing cases for use in convention bourses and exhibits that are available from a numismatic organization. The board approved the expenditure of approximately $3,800 for a motorized cart for use at conventions.

Approval was given to the establishment of a convention love token exhibit category at a convenient time.

A convention auction contract form, prepared by legal counsel Dusterberg and approved by president Hatie and governor Bowers, was approved by the board for immediate use.

Miscellaneous

A motion was passed to adopt the figures as outlined to the executive board in the report of Fox & Company, a Colorado Springs CPA firm engaged by ANA to study its information processing system requirements. The study indicates an 8-year net saving of some $50,000 by the installation of an in-house computer costing about $176,000.

The executive vice president was authorized to set up a "Service Recognition Pin Plan" to make available lapel pins to members at cost. While called "Service" pins, they actually will be pins to indicate the number of membership years attained by the wearer.

The board instructed executive vice president Rochette to plan and hold a Round Table Discussion in Colorado Springs sometime this year. It is to follow, generally, the format of the two such meetings held in 1975 in Colorado Springs and Chicago. Some ANA members will be invited to participate, but it will be open to anyone who wishes to attend.

Due to the volitility of the price of silver, the board directed that the club past president silver medal, publicized on page 316 of the February issue of The Numismatist, be priced 20% over the spot market value of silver it contains at the time an order is received.

A number of other topics relating to the Association were discussed that did not require definite action at the time.

Numismatic Goodwill Tour Planned

Prominent numismatists from around the world are being asked to participate in an international goodwill mission to be conducted under the auspices of People-to-People International. A number of U.S. leaders in the hobby are being invited to man a delegation which will meet with prominent numismatic counterparts in Poland, Greece, Romania, Hungary and Yugoslavia this Fall, from September 19 to October 10. The delegates will also have the opportunity to meet with treasury officials in these countries.

People-to-People is an internationally recognized organization founded in 1956 by President Dwight Eisenhower. Following its original philosophy, the organization has remained almost exclusively private. American groups with similar professional interests meet with their peers in foreign countries and exchange information and ideas. These trips have been very successful and quite rewarding for individual participants. The U.S. State Department endorses the People-to-People program as a worthwhile and widely respected private sector enterprise for the promotion of international understanding and cooperation.

Each individual delegate must pay his or her own way. There is no government financing available, and the costs involved for a delegate are not inexpensive, but this should be viewed as a once-in-a-lifetime experience that no amount of money could buy. Executive Vice President Edward C. Rochette has been asked by People-to-People to head the American delegation. Further details are available, both about People-to-People and the tour itinerary, direct from Rochette at ANA headquarters, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901.

Second Garrett Collection Sale Tops $11 Million

1804 Silver Dollar Brings $400,000

1851 Proof $50 Slug Brings $500,000

Scarcely an auction sale record was left standing following the sale by Bowers & Ruddy Galleries in Los Angeles, California of Part II of the Garrett Collection, sold to the order of The Johns Hopkins University. Crossing the block on March 26 and 27 were 572 lots which brought the total of $11,739,530. Adding the realization for Part I of the Garrett Collection (sold by Bowers & Ruddy Galleries in New York City in November, 1979), $7,055,000, the grand total of the two sales to date is $18,795,000. "The first two Garrett sales have realized more than any other American auction in the fine arts field ever held—including art, antiquities, stamps, coins, or any other field," noted Q. David Bowers, president of the firm.

Silver Rarities

The sale began with an 1804 quarter dollar described as AU which fetched $80,000 to the wild applause of the standing-room-only audience estimated at 500 people on hand to witness the opening of the stellar sale. From that point action was unabatted for the next two days. The 1827 original quarter, a gem Proof, soared to $190,000, thus setting a new auction record for a silver United States coin. As it turned out, that auction record was held for less than an hour! A presentation 1795 Great Bust dollar, a glittering Proof, went to $170,000.

A few minutes later lot 698, the 1804 silver dollar, came up for bidding. A sense of awe pervaded the audience as all was still, awaiting the auctioneer's opening bid on what has been described as "the king of American coins." A mail bid of $175,000 was quickly topped by a multitude of floor bidders raising their blue bidding cards. In less than a minute it was all over, with Walter Perschke's $375,000 bid topped by Larry Hanks' winning $400,000 gesture. A recess was called as TV cameras, photographers, and others gathered around the new owner of the world's most valuable silver coin. Larry Hanks, of El Paso, Texas, stated that he plans to exhibit the coin for several months so the public would have a chance to see it. After that time it may be for sale, he noted.

Gold

A 1796 Without Stars quarter eagle in AU grade brought $125,000. The 1821 Proof of the same denomination brought $120,000, followed soon by an 1831 Uncirculated quarter eagle at $105,000, and an 1834 No Motto Proof quarter eagle at $135,000.

An 1840 Uncirculated quarter eagle, a coin which catalogues just $650 in the current "Guide Book," brought a whopping $16,000. In the same vein an 1876 Uncirculated quarter eagle (catalogue value $800) brought $18,000. Matte Proof quarter eagles from 1908 through 1915 brought from $27,000 to $45,000 each.

All the coins in the Garrett sale were formed over a long period of years by T. Harrison Garrett, who began his collecting activities in 1865 and continued them to his death in 1888, and by his two sons, Robert Garrett and John Work Garrett. Included in the offerings were many pieces which were purchased from the Philadelphia Mint at the time of issue in the 19th century, coins obtained from such numismatic notables as the Chapman Brothers, Harold Newlin, W. Elliot Woodward, Ed. Frossard, and others. The combination of quality, rarity, and illustrious pedigree combined to create hundreds of records far surpassing any ever seen in the numismatic field.

Double eagles in the Garrett offering ranged from 1850 to 1915 and with just two exceptions were in Proof condition. The exceptions were Uncirculated. Proof $20 pieces of 1860, 1865, and 1866 offered in succession sold for $80,000, followed by an 1873 Proof at $65,000.

An 1891 Proof of the same denomination fetched $90,000. A brilliant Uncirculated MCMVII (1907) high relief double eagle, a nearly perfect specimen, more than doubled any previous record and soared to $85,000, amidst a ripple of excitement among knowledgeable dealers and collectors alike. Then came an illustrious series of Matte Proof double eagles from 1908 through 1915 which brought from $60,000 to $90,000 each.

Commemoratives

The commemorative section of the sale featured such highlights as a Proof 1893 Isabella quarter at $15,000, an 1892 Columbian half dollar in the same grade at $6,250, a choice Uncirculated 1893 Columbian half dollar at $2,500 (!), and a 1915-S Panama Pacific half dollar in the same grade at $12,000, a 1935 Hudson in MS-63 condition at $1,300, a 1935 Old Spanish Trail at $3,200, and to mention a record for one of the most common issues, a breathtaking $400 for an MS-60 1951 Booker T. Washington half dollar!

An MS-65 1900 Lafayette dollar sold for $27,000, a 1915-S Panama Pacific quarter eagle fetched $18,000, a Pan-Pacific round $50 "slug" brought $95,000, and closing out the first evening's activity was a Pan-Pacific octagonal piece at a breathtaking $100,000. The total for the first evening was $6,221,520, a figure which in itself represented a world's record for a single auction session.

Territorials

The next evening, March 27, commenced with one of the greatest offerings of territorial gold coins ever to be offered for public competition. Included were pieces which had been the personal property of Augustus Humbert, United States assayer of gold in California. As it turned out, virtually any auction record old or new was shattered by the time the evening was over. An 1850 Baldwin "horseman" $10 brought $77,500, an 1851 $20 issued by the same firm fetched $110,000, and the unique Bowie pattern $1 struck in copper found a new owner at $12,000. The exceedingly rare gold $10 of the Cincinnati Mining & Trading Company, one of just four examples known to exist, fetched $270,000 amidst enthusiastic applause.

Lot 890, Augustus Humbert's personal specimen of the 1852/1 Proof $20 zoomed to $325,000 as bidders realized that this piece, once sold, would never be duplicated by any other example of its type. As it turned out that was just a prelude for what became the highlight of Part II of the Garrett Collection sale, lot 897, an 1851 octagonal $50 in Proof condition, a piece which was formerly the personal property of Augustus Humbert. Starting at $70,000, the coin jumped $10,000 at a time, then $25,000 until it crossed the $200,000 mark, then the $250,000 mark, then on past $300,000. $300,000, $400,000, then $425,000, $450,000, $475,000, then to an even half million. At that point underbidder Harlan White of San Diego reluctantly put down his hand, and Don Kagin of Des Moines, Iowa was triumphant. The figure paid was exceeded only by the $725,000 paid last November for the Garrett specimen of the 1787 Brasher doubloon.

Augustus Humbert's own specimen of the 1854 Kellogg & Company $20 fetched an amazing $230,000, to be followed two lots later by the finest known 1855 $50 issued by the same firm which brought $300,000. Next on the auction agenda was the 1850 $50 gold ingot, the first California $50 gold piece, issued by F. D. Kohler, State Assayer. Amidst eager competition, the coin went to the $200,000 level. A Miner's Bank Uncirculated $10 brought $135,000, a J.S. Ormsby $10 fetched an even $100,000, and the rare Pacific Company $50 in gold brought $180,000. Closing out the California gold section was the finest known Wass, Molitor & Company $50 at a breathtaking $275,000.

Observing the proceedings were representatives from The Johns Hopkins University, consignor of the collection, who were seated in the second row. "We are very pleased with the result, needless to say," an official of the institution observed.

Patterns

Patterns were next up on the auction list. Activity was fast and furious as the Judd catalogue values were doubled, tripled, and quadrupled in instance after instance. An 1882 Liberty Head nickel, J-1690, sold for $19,000. The 1879 Morgan quarter in silver, J-1593, brought $28,000. A beautiful pattern dollar, J-1121, the 1879 Longacre design fetched an awesome $36,000. The most excitement, and one of the most enthusiastic bursts of applause of the evening was reserved for lot 1056 when Julian Leidman kept his hand persistently in the air until the 1879 silver "schoolgirl" dollar, J-1608, was finally awarded to him for the world's record price of $105,000. Among other patterns in the sale an 1879 "quintuple stella" struck in gold brought $90,000, and a gilded copper 1877 $50 sold for a new high of $55,000.

Hard Times Tokens

In what was expected to be the calm after the storm, the sale shifted gears and presented a series of Hard Times tokens, an illustrious group of pieces minted in 1833-1844, which for the most part, T. Harrison Garrett purchased nearly a century ago from Lyman H. Low, foremost specialist in the series. It turns out that within the spectrum of the token field, every past record for Hard Times tokens was shattered before the next hour was over. Low-1, a sharp Very Fine example, sold for $6,000, far and away a new record. Other highlights included Low-24 at $2,700, a Low-25 at $3,400, Low-26 at $3,750, Low-27 at $2,500, Low-41 at $3,100, Low-43 at $1,000, and Low-155 at $2,100.

"One of the most remarkable things about the sale, apart from the high level of prices realized and the unsurpassed quality of the pieces offered, was the wide diversity of bidder activity," noted Q. David Bowers. "Hundreds of different people participated, and rather than two, three, or several 'bid buyers' taking a lion's share of the lots, successful bids were awarded to many different collectors, investors, and dealers—indicating a wide breadth and strength of the market. It is also significant to note that the record coin prices were achieved on a day in which the Dow Jones Industrial Average dipped to one of its lowest points in several years."

Part III of the Garrett Collection is scheduled to be sold in New York City in October in 1980. Part IV will be sold in Los Angeles early in 1981. Information concerning the Garrett sales, orders for catalogues, and other inquiries can be directed to: Bowers & Ruddy Galleries, Suite 600-NR, 6922 Hollywood Boulevard, Los Angeles, CA 90028.

WORLD COIN NEWS

UNITED STATES—Orders Being Accepted for 1980 Proof Sets

The San Francisco Old Mint is currently accepting orders for 1980 Proof Coin Sets. The sets contain the six coins presently produced by the Mint—a dollar, half dollar, quarter, dime, nickel and cent. Proof coins, which are produced only at the San Francisco Assay Office, bear the "S" mint mark and are sold only in sets. All aspects of production, from dies to blanks, to the dual striking and packaging of the proof coins are especially designed to provide the ultimate in quality.

Mint Director Stella Hackel noted that the coins are sealed in a newly-designed package which protects and displays the set. While similar to previous packaging, the cases were redesigned in order to better accommodate the dollar coin. The new cases do not require the hinge assembly of previous proof set cases which should help reduce the possibility of sets being damaged in shipment.

The price of $10 per set includes shipment by first class registered mail. There is a limit of five sets per customer. Collectors who are already on the Mint's mailing list should have received order cards in the mail the last part of March. Individuals who are not on the mailing list may order the sets by writing to the Bureau of the Mint, 55 Mint Street, San Francisco, CA 94175. Letter orders should specify the number of sets desired, the customer's complete name and address, and a check or money order made payable to the Bureau of the Mint for the amount of purchase. Those ordering from a foreign country should make payment with an International Money Order or with a check drawn on a United States bank made payable in United States currency.

Since limited production and mailing capability make it necessary to limit the ordering period for these sets, Mrs. Hackel urged individuals interested in obtaining the 1980 sets to order as soon as possible. The Mint anticipates orders being accepted until the end of May. However, an earlier cut-off date may have occurred before press time if orders for the sets exceeded the Mint's production capability. If this occurred, the Mint will return all orders received after the cut-off date.

All orders will be mailed by the end of December 1980. Customers whose orders are not in the first group to be mailed will receive an acknowledgement card which will indicate the date by which they can expect their order to be mailed.

Orders for Wayne Medal Now Being Filled

One of America's most beloved actors, John Wayne, was honored almost one year ago this month with a Congressionally authorized gold medal. Unfortunately, The Duke passed away before completion of the piece in his honor. On March 6 of this year, the Wayne family was presented with the finished gold medal, commemorating this great man for the love and adventure he gave to his fellow Americans.

The medal was designed by U.S. Mint Chief Engraver/Sculptor Frank Gasparro. Wayne's favorite picture of himself, taken during the filming of "The Alamo," was the design for the obverse, with the words suggested by Maureen O'Hara, "John Wayne—American," situated above the bust. The reverse portrays The Duke on horseback galloping through Monument Valley, Utah, the sight of many of his movies.

The Bureau of the Mint began taking orders last June for a bronze replica of the piece. As of mid-March of this year, approximately one quarter of the almost 40,000 orders had been processed and mailed.

The commemorative piece comes in two sizes with the 3" medal selling for $8.30 and the 1 5/16" medal selling for $1.10. The cost covers postage and handling. Money orders and checks should be made payable to the Bureau of the Mint and sent to the same at 55 Mint Street, San Francisco, CA 94175. Foreign orders must be remitted through international money orders or checks drawn on U.S. banks and payable in U.S. currency.

The winning design of the 1980 dollar coin presented to the Royal Canadian Mint is pictured above by its designer Donald Paterson of Don Mills, Ontario, Canada. Paterson beat out 450 other competing artists to bag the $5,000 purse. In 1975, Paterson gathered a $2,000 prize for his design of the Canadian dollar commemorating the centennial of Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

SOUTH AFRICA—Mint to Expand Bullion Offerings

The Krugerrand, the world's largest selling gold bullion coin, is in the process of being expanded into a family of bullion coins designed to respond to every level of consumer interest.

Joining the Krugerrand immediately is the smaller 2-Rand. It contains approximately a quarter of an ounce (0.2354 oz.) of fine gold and has on its reverse side the same Springbok that adorns the one-ounce Krugerrand. In the past the 2-Rand has been available in limited quantities as a numismatic item.

The 2-Rand price, like that of the Krugerrand, will be directly related to the current gold price plus a small premium for minting and distribution. "Similar premiums and commissions," points out Vigil, "are charged on all investment vehicles whether stocks, bonds, commodities or gold."

Planned for introduction later is a one-half-ounce coin. No date has been set for its distribution.

Bullion coins have grown rapidly in recent years because they offer important advantages over plain bullion for most people. The traditional form in which investors held gold for centuries was the gold bar. But because gold bars frequently require costly assaying before they can be sold, many gold investors in recent years have turned to gold bullion coins. There is no need for assaying upon sale and there is a ready market that exists throughout the world.

Congressional Bill Could Effect Numismatic Dealers

A bill (H.R. 5961) has been introduced to the House of Representatives that would amend the Currency and Foreign Transactions Reporting Act and probably effect numismatic dealers overseas activities. Presently, large amounts of currency can be imported and exported without filing reports with the government. If the amendment is passed, not only would official reports have to be filed with the U.S. government, but U.S. Customs officials would also have the authority to search for currency under the pretense of checking for contraband material. The bill also provides for informers to be paid.

Congressman Ron Paul, R-Texas, opposed the bill during a recent meeting of the House Banking Committee (of which he is a member), arguing that only one side of the bill's potential effects had been looked at. He noted that in violation of the Fourth Amendment, this addition to the present act would authorize unnecessary searching for something other than contraband such as "monetary instruments." This would include coins, cash, travelers' checks, bearer securities and stocks.

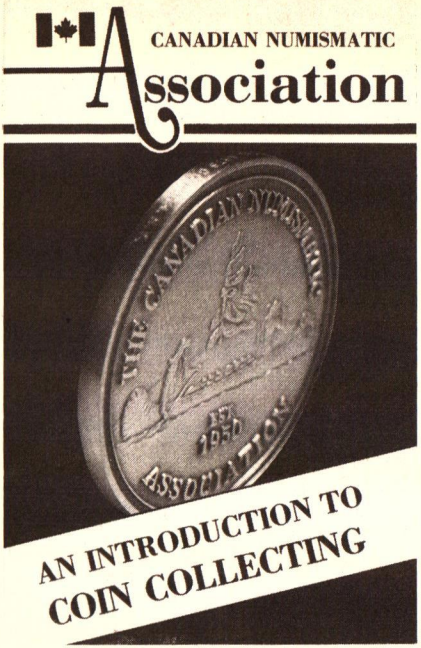

Rep. Paul further disputed the amendment, stating that the committee had not considered the financial or economic effect it could have on persons using this import and export activity. He offered another amendment to the committee that would only authorize the search if officials suspected a drug-related crime to be involved, but it was immediately rejected.

Concerned numismatists are urged to write their representatives declaring opposition to the bill on the grounds that it is an infringement of civil liberties and will lead to unnecessary harassment of innocent people.

CNA Offers Coin Collecting Booklet

Due to the efforts of the Canadian Numismatic Association and the J. Douglas Ferguson Historical Research Foundation, a 48-page booklet entitled An Introduction to Coin Collecting was published in time to promote Coin Week Canada and National Coin Week in the United States. Printed in a quantity of 10,000, approximately one quarter of the booklets were distributed in the schools to encourage coin collecting among juniors, and clubs handed many of them out in shopping malls, libraries and other locations.

Subjects covered in the booklet are the origin of coinage, medieval coinage, modern foreign coins, early monies of Canada, colonial coinage of Canada, paper money, fractional currency, wooden money, ancient coinage, military awards, trade tokens, and advertising and transportation tokens. How to acquire coins, housing and care of coins, cleaning coins and great Canadian rarities are also detailed. The Club Directory, listing 78 coin clubs, includes addresses for all Canadian Numismatic Association member clubs. A glossary of terms is also provided, explaining over 50 common numismatic terms.

The booklets may be obtained at no charge while the supply lasts from Walt Ostromecki, Jr., Box 4159, Panorama City, CA 91412.

Applications for membership in the Canadian Numismatic Association should be addressed to the Executive Secretary, P.O. Box 226, Barrie, Ontario, Canada L4M 4T2. Membership, which consists of a number of benefits including receipt of the monthly Canadian Numismatic Journal, is $15.00 annually.

State Library Sells Old Medals

In 1926, the Sesquicentennial Exposition was held to commemorate the 150th Anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. To honor that occasion, along with the anniversary of the death of Nathan Hale, the State of Connecticut had a bronze medal struck.

The medal was designed by George S. Goddard, state librarian from 1900 to 1936, and was minted by the Whitehead & Hoag Company of Newark. The obverse of the medal is engraved with the Connecticut State Building, a structure designed after the Old State House and erected on the exposition grounds. A statue of Nathan Hale, his famous quote, and the state seal appear on the reverse.

Originally struck in an issue of 5,000 pieces, the medal is now considered scarce. The state library has decided to sell the remaining 250 copies with proceeds from the sale being used to develop the library's book collection. The price for each medal is $9 by mail; a dollar less if sold over-the-counter. Checks should be made payable to the Connecticut State Library. Mail requests should be addressed to Connecticut State Library, General Reference Dept., 231 Capitol Ave., Hartford, CT, 06115. For further information, contact Barry Woods, General Reference Dept. at (203) 566-7029.

C.O.I.N. Schedules Numismatic Literature Auction

With veteran George Bennett wielding the gavel, George F. Kolbe will conduct his two-session book sale at the Convention of International Numismatics in the Los Angeles Hilton Hotel on June 13 & 14. Joseph Lepczyk will hold a coin auction at the show but the sales will not conflict time-wise.

Kolbe's sales are becoming increasingly important to the bibliophile as well as to the numismatist. This sale, Kolbe reveals, will emphasize books on ancient and foreign coins but not to the complete exclusion of U. S. subjects. The thousand lots will include a complete series of Vogel auction catalogs of the 1920's, an original set of Maillet on obsidional coins, a set of the Numismatic Circular, a presentation set of Dalton & Hamer's classic work on English tokens, a copy of the 1869 American Bond Detector, several other counterfeit detectors, some in exceptional condition, and numerous other highly desirable works.

The C.O.I.N. sale of a year ago saw lively floor bidding, but mail bids won a goodly number of lots. Kolbe's all mail bid sale six months later (December 15, 1979) attracted even more bidders and set many new price records. As an example of rising prices of books: an original Crosby brought $200 in June but a similar copy in December fetched $260; R. Green 1945 reprints of the same book went for $25 and $40 respectively in the same sales.

Those not on his regular mailing list may obtain the book sale catalog and printed prices realized for $3 from George Frederick Kolbe, P.O. Box 178, Santa Ana, CA 92702.

Brookgreen Gardens' Membership Medal

Inspirationally beautiful is a most fitting description for Brookgreen Gardens, an outdoor museum in South Carolina. Surrounded by gorgeous flowers and trees that grow wild in this southwestern coastal state, this garden paradise is a sanctuary for many of the area's native animals and over 380 priceless pieces of sculpture.

A non-profit organization, Brookgreen Gardens is funded through endowments and membership support. Memberships are available in five categories: $25 per year—Supporting Member; $50 per year—Contributing Member; $100 per year—Sustaining Member; $500 per year—Patron; and $1000 per year—Life Member. All membership fees beyond the first $15 are tax deductible as contributions, and entitle the joiner to free admission to Brookgreen Gardens, a subscription to the Brookgreen Bulletin, invitations to special events and programs, and the unique opportunity to support this living museum.

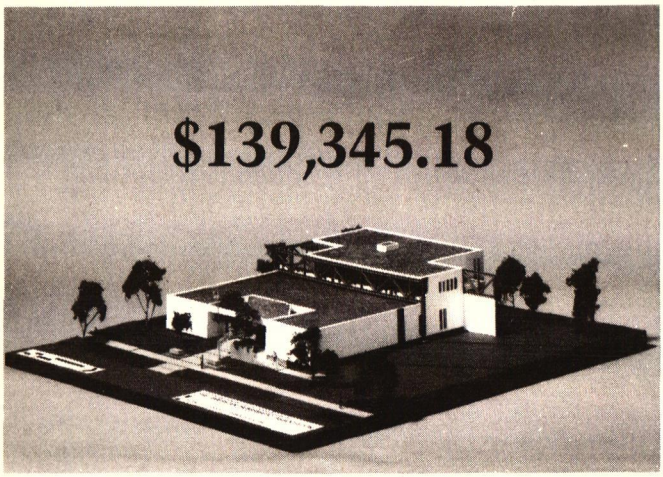

Brookgreen Gardens has just released the design for their seventh and most recent membership medal, another benefit which is given to all members holding Sustaining Memberships and above. Created by Michael Lantz of New Rochelle, N.Y., the design reflects the dual purpose behind the gardens' development.

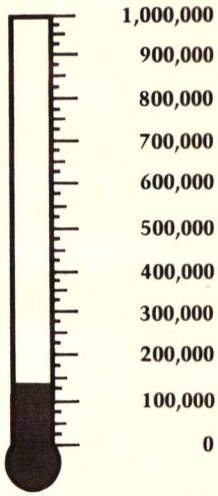

The obverse relates the story of survival—to eat or be eaten—which provides for the balance of wildlife in the santuary and throughout the natural world. In the center of the medal a great blue heron, gracefully balanced on one leg, has just caught a fish for dinner. Beneath the heron is an alligator preparing to help himself to a bullfrog, while the unsuspecting frog is concentrating on an insect.

Collecting, preserving and presenting outstanding works of American sculpture, the other purpose served by Brookgreen Gardens, is represented on the medal's reverse. Pegasus, the mythical winged horse, and a colt, whom Lantz says was inspired by Pegasus, are dashing joyfully through the heavens. The winged horse is symbolic of inspiration, possibly the most essential ingredient for creating any work of art.

Those wishing to join the organization or anyone who would like to make a contribution to the sanctuary may do so by writing to Brookgreen Gardens, Murrells Inlet, SC 29576.

Selling your rare coins properly takes New England know-how.

The true value of your rare coins can't be found in a book. A rare coin is worth whatever the market will pay for it. So when you decide to sell, consult the experts who know today's market better than anyone else: New England Rare Coin Galleries. New England is the world's largest dealer in rare U.S. coinage. Take a look at how New England Rare Coin Galleries can help you get the most for your rare coins...

Expert Appraisals.

The first step in any rare coin sale is an expert appraisal. New England Rare Coin Galleries' numismatists have in-depth knowledge in all areas of numismatics, including U.S. coins, ancient coins, world coins and rare U.S. currency. We will provide accurate market appraisals of all your materials, so that you can judge just how profitable your rare coin sale could be. For major collections, we will even travel to your bank, vault or home to ensure the privacy and security of your holdings.

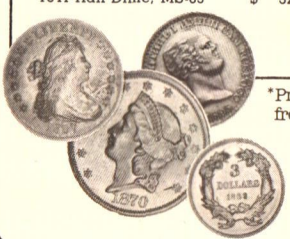

Public Auction.

If our numismatists determine that your coins might bring the highest prices at public auction, we will help you place them in a New England Rare Coin Auctions sale. New England Rare Coin Auctions, a division of New England Rare Coin Galleries, is an internationally influential auction firm that holds four major auctions annually. Our reputation has prompted several prestigious numismatic organizations to ask us to conduct auctions for them — including the American Numismatic Association, the Metropolitan New York Numismatic Association and the Florida United Numismatists. In 1979, our A.N.A. auction broke the world's record for the highest-grossing numismatic sale ever conducted by a single auction firm: over $4.1 million. And today, our avid following of enthusiastic bidders allows us to consistently realize record prices for collectors.

When you decide to sell, you want the highest possible price for your collection. So does Bowers & Ruddy Galleries.

We know how much time and money you have given to your collection, and we treat your property as though it were ours! We are working together to obtain the same result — high prices — since our commission is a percentage of the price which each lot brings.

Years of numismatic expertise go into the cataloguing of your coins. Unmatched photographic illustrations (color and black and white) of important pieces are placed right with the lots. We give you and your coins treatment of an uncompromising nature — to entice bidders to bid liberally.

Don't sell valuable rarities or choice type coins outright. Don't trust the big job of offering them to the collecting public to a little auction firm. If you do either, you will probably not get nearly what you should for your coins. Instead, consider for a moment the valuable qualities which are yours through a Bowers and Ruddy Galleries rare coin auction — qualities which can be yours for just a low commission rate.

Bowers & Ruddy Galleries, Inc.

IMMEDIATE CASH ADVANCES are available in any amount. There is no need to sell your property outright at less than you should receive, because we will gladly give you an instant cash advance the moment your consignment is accepted for auction.

COMPLETE PROTECTION FOR YOUR HOLDINGS. Your property is fully insured and protected in our bank vaults from the moment we receive it—and we will even send couriers to pick up your coins if your collection warrants it. A secure financial settlement following the sale is also guaranteed, for no auction service anywhere is more reliable than Bowers and Ruddy Galleries, a member of the billion-dollar-strong General Mills family of companies. Peace of mind is yours!

PROFESSIONAL REFERENCES. Our founders, James F. Ruddy (retired) and Q. David Bowers, are life members of the American Numismatic Association and are members of the Professional Numismatists Guild (Mr. Ruddy is a recipient of the PNG's Distinguished Service Award, and Mr. Bowers is a director of the PNG), the International Association of Professional Numismatists, the American Numismatic Society, the Royal Numismatic Society of London, and other leading organizations worldwide. Both are widely known for their research and writings in the field of numismatics, including best-selling books on coin grading and investing.

A one and only opportunity.

The one and only A.N.A. 1980.

A one and only opportunity to realize the greatest prices ever for your rare coins.

The one and only A.N.A. 1980.

Each year, the coin world anxiously awaits the A.N.A. auction sale. It's the most prestigious coin auction in the world, and it happens only once a year.

The A.N.A. auction creates an excitement all its own, with floor bidding at a fast, fevered pace. Indeed, this is the auction that creates numismatic history.

And this year's exciting week-long event promises to be the biggest auction ever. A.N.A. 1980. Thousands of coins are expected to change hands at all-time high prices.

The one and only auction that can draw over 15,000 potential buyers.

Because it is the highlight of the annual A.N.A. convention, the A.N.A. auction enjoys the highest attendance of any other auction. The A.N.A. possesses a prestige that lures thousands of collectors and dealers from all over the world in search of the choicest coins. Some of the rarest and most precious coins are sold only through the A.N.A. Every kind of coin from every part of the world lures thousands of buyers to the A.N.A. If you have coins to sell, there's no time as advantageous to you as A.N.A. 1980.

The one and only auction with an exclusive, loyal buying audience.

Because the A.N.A. auction is probably the greatest single event on the 1980 numismatic calendar, it will attract earnest, sincere collectors and dealers. Many bidders buy from this auction exclusively. And for many dealers, A.N.A. 1980 will be the only auction they will attend all year. It is these dedicated numismatists who will view every coin auctioned – including yours. That's the selling power of the A.N.A.

The one and only auction that will market your coins to the fullest.

Steve Ivy Numismatic Auctions will organize and manage this year's auction. We are preparing the most complete A.N.A. auction marketing program ever to give consignors the very best chance to realize the highest possible prices for their coins. For instance, many coins will be featured in a beautiful, full-color catalog, the best organized and most comprehensive showpiece ever published for the A.N.A. This catalog will be viewed and studied by all potential bidders.

Because of the great prestige of this A.N.A. auction, your coins will benefit from a wide range of highly respected national news media publicity as well.

The one and only auction that promises the best prices of the year.

This auction, particularly during this year of unprecedented high selling prices, will capture the attention of the numismatic world. No other auction during the year can claim the same prestige and reputation to draw as many bidders as the A.N.A.

Without question, the A.N.A. 1980 auction presents the finest liquidation potential available to coin consignors today.

This is also the only auction of the year that directly supports the A.N.A. A small percentage of all sales goes to the one national organization serving you, the American numismatist.

So consign with A.N.A. 1980 by calling Bob Merrill toll-free at 800-527-6810 or send in the coupon for our informative brochure, "How to Sell Rare Coins at Auction." And cash in on the most exciting coin auction of the year.

ICELANDIC PROOF COINS 1946-1980

A currency reform is to take place in Iceland on January 1st 1981. The old currency will be withdrawn from circulation and replaced by a completely new issue of notes and coins.

To mark this event and as a way of saying farewell to the old coinage, the Central Bank is issuing a set of base metal proof coins with frosted relief. The set includes samples of all denominations of the coins struck since Iceland became a Republic in 1944.

The coins were put into circulation during the period 1946-1980, and the date on each denomination shows the year in which it was last struck.

This special issue is limited to 15000 sets, specially produced by the Royal Mint in London where Icelandic coins have been struck for over 40 years.

The proof coins are available in sets only. Each set is sealed in a transparent plastic case with attractive outer wrapper and information card in English and Icelandic.

Price per set: U.S. $40.00. Prices include handling, surface mail and insurance.

Complete the order form below to obtain this special issue which will increase in value over the years. Send with your remittance to:

Do Business with the Leaders!

Do business with the leaders in the rare coin field! Do business with members of the Professional Numismatists Guild.

Rightly or wrongly, it's a fact of life that anyone can call himself a "rare coin dealer," even if he saw his first rare coin only yesterday. And, assuming that he has good banking references (not necessarily numismatic references), he can run large and impressive-appearing advertisements as well. How, then, do you as a prospective coin buyer or seller know whether you are doing business with a firm with extensive numismatic knowledge and financial strength or whether you are doing business with a newcomer with little experience but with a big advertising budget?

The answer is simple: DO BUSINESS WITH MEMBERS OF THE PROFESSIONAL NUMISMATISTS GUILD!

Each and every Professional Numismatists Guild member—and there are over 200 of them worldwide—has passed strict admission standards, including years of full-time professional experience and substantial net assets. Further, the dealer has subscribed to a rigorous code of ethics. When you do business with a PNG dealer there are no worries about grading. There are no worries about authenticity. There are no worries about financial stability or responsibility. There are no worries about misrepresentation. In short, you get the quality, value, and service you expect. Further, should any dispute ever arise between you and a PNG member, your notification of the problem to the Executive Secretary will result in immediate action being taken. And, should the dispute be a serious one, the PNG arbitration system is available to you without charge—a system which has been 100% satisfactory in the past to all who have participated and which, in fact, has been so successful that it has been adopted elsewhere.

NUMISMATICS IS A WONDERFUL HOBBY! Get to know your PNG dealer —a wonderful relationship awaits you.

A directory of PNG members is available free on request from the Executive Secretary.

In every field there is a classic. . .

THE HISTORY OF UNITED STATES COINAGE
as illustrated by the Garrett Collection by Q. David Bowers is the classic reference book for American coins.

Here is a book the serious collector, dealer, and investor cannot afford to be without. In one volume is a complete history of United States coins from the earliest colonial days to the Susan Anthony dollar. Gold coins of California, silver dollars of the Morgan and Peace types, pattern issues, large cents and half cents, tokens and medals—all coinage types and areas are studied in detail.

Coin World, in a front-page article, called the book "a singular boon to the hobby, a monumental, magnificently-illustrated opus" (among other glowing comments) and noted that it was "spellbinding" reading. The Numismatic Literary Guild Newsletter called it "one of the most unique numismatic books ever to appear in our hobby. The term 'quality' comes to mind wherever this publication will be viewed. The writing is interesting, easy to absorb, and, above all, informative." The New York Times, 'Numismatic News,' and other publications were likewise enthusiastic.

Our first printing of 5,000 copies was sold out in less than two months, an overwhelming response to a volume which isn't exactly inexpensive! Orders are coming in strongly, and it is a matter of time until the second printing of just 3,500 copies is exhausted.

The book is 8 ½ x 11" in size, is printed on heavy weight glossy paper, is hardbound with an embossed gold-lettered cover, and comprises nearly 600 pages, including 40 full-color plates and hundreds of black and white illustrations. The American classic coins are illustrated in sharp detail.

Knowledge is the key to success in any field. This book as been called "a complete numismatic library in one volume." We guarantee (or your money will be instantly refunded) that you will find more information about United States coins in this book than in any other single reference. It is truly a remarkable book. Use the coupon below.

Copies are $37.00 postpaid each (or $39.22, including tax, to California addresses).

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE MAIL ORDER COIN BUSINESS!

There is no pressure. A buyer obtaining a coin in a neighborhood store or at a coin show, may feel the pressure of the sale at that instant (in front of the watchful stare of the coin's owner). When ordering coins by mail, a buyer can sit down at his leisure and closely inspect his purchase to his own satisfaction without hurry. If the mail order buyer is dissatisfied with his purchase, he may return it for exchange, replacement, or a refund. But what can the buyer do who bought the coin in the rush of the situation and upon closer inspection finds out it isn't at all what he wanted? Or the quality he wanted? He has two options:

1) Admits he was a sucker and takes his loss, too embarassed by his mistake to take it back, or . . .

2) He takes it back to the dealer (if he wasn't at a coin show, and the dealer is still in town) and humiliates himself by having to explain why he didn't like the coin after he bought it "sight seen." An even worse situation is when the buyer approaches the dealer and is told that the coin was on commission from a "client" and that "I already forwarded the money and will have to get in touch with them and let you know."

LET THE BUYER BEWARE

We know the tired old argument about buying coins through the mail: "but then you're out the postage, time and trouble." But what's a few days and 2 or 3 bucks postage compared to $200.00 lost on a coin that can't be returned for one reason or another? The "fly-by-night" mail order houses and other "scheme" type operations are almost completely non-existant.

With the strict restrictions enforced and the careful eye of the regulatory agencies that safeguard the mails, in addition to the publications themselves which closely screen their advertisers, buying coins by mail has become one of the safest ways of obtaining coins.

We do not intend in this message to turn you away from your local coin dealer, coin club, or coin show purchases. We are only asking that you consider this point of view when someone complains about the mail order business . . . whether this complaining is to get your business for themselves, or just plain old complaining for the sake of it without checking the facts first.

We also ask you to check prices, because in most publications the competition is fierce, so prices must be competitive. (Does the coin seller in an out of the way spot have to be competitive when there's not another dealer around for miles?)

WE INVITE YOU to shop for your coins by mail, competitively and without pressure, to buy from any one of the dealers' display ads in this publication (not just ours). Whether you're a collector, investor, or dealer, if you desire the type of merchandise we sell, sooner or later you'll try us once . . . and when you do you will have found your permanent mail order coin dealer.

Please check our current ads in any one of the following publications:

Numismatic News, Coin World, Coinage,
Coins, Coin Prices, Coin Collecting

We invite you to join our mailing list by sending us a postcard with your name and address on it.

WE THANK YOU

This buying ad is NOT just a lot of hot air!

Every year for the past 20 years, thousands of collectors, investors, and other dealers have found that Robert Hughes has offered the highest prices for their material. As a matter of fact, we estimate that about 75% of our purchases are being made from other dealers. This means you can usually get more by dealing directly with us!

We don't dream of large coin purchases. We are constantly making them. Here are the actual figures for numismatic material which Robert L. Hughes has acquired in recent months:

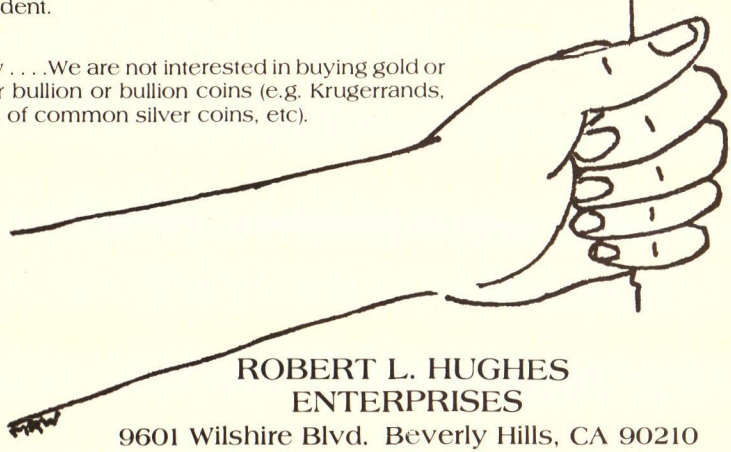

January 1980	$1,008,147
December 1979	$590,700
November 1979	$950,468
October 1979	$1,063,578

Other dealers indicate that they want to spend a million dollars a month. We are! And we want more. We can pay immediately for individual rarities or collections valued at $1,000,000 . . . $5,000,000 . . . and up! The transaction is completely confidential . . . and you can be paid cash if you wish.

If you hear of an important collection that may be for sale, let us know. Robert L. Hughes Enterprises pays generous finder's fees on consumated transactions.

Please call us in confidence on our toll free number (800) 421-0588, except in California—call collect at (213) 278-4950. Ask for Bob Hughes, President, or Gary Gordon, Executive Vice President.

Sorry . . . .We are not interested in buying gold or silver bullion or bullion coins (e.g. Krugerrands, bags of common silver coins, etc).

SALES ON COMMISSION

CONSIGN YOUR COINS TO SEABY AND PAY ONLY 15% COMMISSION ON THE SELLING PRICE.

Seaby is a household name in the coin and medal business. Seaby's Coin & Medal Bulletin has a wider circulation than almost any other numismatic list or auction catalogue. Although our business is mainly buying and selling coins and medals outright, collectors and dealers may be interested in selling individual items or collections through Seaby on commission at 15%. The 15% covers:

(1) Offering your items to our extensive clientele through our want lists.
(2) Expert listing in the Coin & Medal Bulletin by one of our 18 specialist numismatists.
(3) Full insurance coverage.

Clients are asked to consign items to us for a minimum of three months at a minimum of approx. $34 per item. Items over approx. $575 will be illustrated free but will incur a charge of approx. $17 if the vendor wishes an item returned. Items under approx. $575 will be illustrated, if requested, at a fee of approx. $17.

We will give advice on the pricing of material. In the interest of our retail clients, we reserve the right to refuse items which we feel to be over-valued by the vendor.

If you have never seen our Coin & Medal Bulletin, write for a complimentary copy.

Feel free to write if you have any questions to:

RARE COIN AND INVESTMENT COMPANY

Lenox Towers, 3400 Peachtree Road, N.E., Suite 835, Atlanta, Georgia 30326, 404/261-6565.

October 11, 1978 was a bad day for some auctioneers.

It was the day Spink ran their first ever coin auction. And what an outstanding success it was, totalling £264,000.

The record prices that were realised reflected the high quality of coins that we offered for sale.

It was just the start of something big. Because Spink Coin Auctions have gone from strength to strength.

We now hold auctions in London, Sydney and Zurich. They have all been very successful. Including the finest collection of modern Greek coins ever offered for sale. And the most important collection of English coins offered for 20 years.

That sale saw the world record price for a penny broken twice in two days.

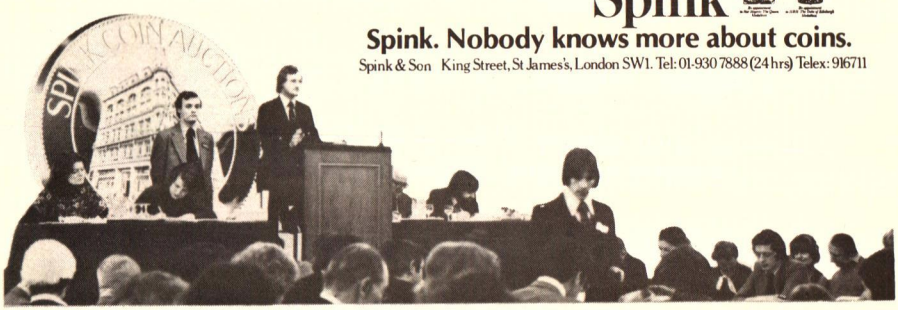

Our rapid rise to the top of the coin auction league took some people by surprise. But those who knew Spink to be the world's leading coin dealers knew it was only a matter of time before they became the world's leading coin auctioneers.

Spink Coin Auctions are here to stay.

Announcing an exciting new commission package from New England Rare Coin Auctions.

New England Rare Coin Auctions
The Effective Auction Company.

New England Rare Coin Auctions, the firm that conducted the highest-grossing A.N.A. Auction in history, is now offering an exciting new commission package which we call "10/10." Under 10/10, collectors who sell coins at our auctions will no longer pay a 20% commission. Instead, seller and buyer will each share a fraction of the total commission cost: 10% seller/10% buyer. The result: some very special benefits for both parties:

Sellers: You retain 10% more profit!

New England's new commission rate represents a 50% reduction of our traditional selling fee. That means rare coin sellers now retain at least 90% of the prices their coins realize. And because we've kept our 10/10 commission package flexible, sellers of major consignments may even retain more than 90%!

Buyers: You have more coins to choose from!

With the promise of a higher percentage of the profits, more rare coin sellers will be turning to New England than ever before. That means buyers will find more high-quality coinage on our auction block than at any other time in our history — coinage that even the most experienced collectors will be proud to own.

New England's new 10/10 commission begins with our 1980 July Sale.

If you are selling coins, call toll-free today for complete information: 800-225-6794, Ext. #99 (in Massachusetts: 617-227-8800, Ext. #99). Or mail us a list of your coins, including your name, address and daytime telephone number.

WE NEED YOUR EARLY TYPE COINS

The Douglas Weaver buying philosophy can be summed up in one simple rule that we always try to follow:

We would rather pay "too much" for nice, problem free coins than to accumulate an inventory of potential bargains that we need to apologize for.

When we attend major auctions, coin shows, or travel to purchase collections, we do so fully prepared to exceed every other offer in order to come away with the coins we need.

Presently we have need to purchase a varied selection of early United States type coins (1793-1807), to fill want lists and to balance our regular inventory.

It is our contention that when buying early type, each coin must be carefully judged on its own merits and not lumped into general categories of value and condition. We also maintain that much of the current pricing information that is available should be considered as only a very general guide. We are fully prepared to pay "whatever it takes" to obtain nice coins.

If you have something nice to sell in early type please give us an opportunity to meet your price or make an offer. We're confident that you will like our straight-forward, no-nonsense way of doing business.

NOTICE
to gold sellers

If there's one basic fact of numismatic life that's as sure as snow in Alaska, it's that William Youngerman wants to buy gold. We want to buy your common gold, we want to buy your rare gold, we want your U.S. and your foreign.

Sure, selling your numismatic material can be frustrating. We've seen collectors, time and again, shopping around like puppies at a flower show and end up doing more fretting and stewing than anything else. Now, we don't mind competition, but just remember that William Youngerman is a name that has meant gold since 1967. At any given time, we have in stock many of the true rarities. The only way to get material such as this is to pay through the nose.

We invite you to shop your U.S. or foreign gold for free appraisal and cash offer. We include the full cost of forwarding your coins in our offer. Although it doesn't happen often, if we do not come to an agreement, we will return your coins fully insured and postpaid, with our check for all your shipping and cost. Send your material fully insured, including invoice listing coins, your full address and telephone number. If you prefer, we will fly to buy large estates or collections. Call today and make an appointment to fit your schedule.

Our references include: Professional Numismatists Guild; American Numismatic Association; Better Business Bureau.

What more can we say. Give us a try. You'll be glad you did!

THE
TO DIE ROTATED COINS

BY DOUG FARISS

Fully Illustrated
Containing Facts, Pictures & Prices
on hundreds of rotated patterns

Perfect companion to Rota-Die.

The most complete text on rotated reverses yet produced. Includes things like:

1. Photographs of the horizontal & vertical axis of coins dating back to mid 1800's.
2. Value tables showing "value adders".
3. Listings of patterns discovered to date.
4. Many interesting facts on how die rotation occurs.
5. Space to enter your own rotated coins.

Die rotation, (the rotated misalignment of the faces of a coin), is the only major non-defacing striking error in numismatics today. Premiums paid for these coins often total 10 to 20 times their numismatic value. Thousands of these coins are in existance today, yet they still remain hard to detect. Now with the new patented, scientific instrument called Rota-Die you can detect and accurately measure the degree of rotation on any of these gems that may have slipped into your collection. Rota-Die is a hand held instrument made of durable space age plastic. It measures 3-5/8 x 5 inches and comes in its own protective pouch, just right for pocket or purse. Rota-Die holds your coins by the edges, nothing comes in contact with the surface. Coins up to 2" in diameter and 1/8" thick can be measured with your Rota-Die. Complete operating instructions are included. Order yours today. Allow 3 to 4 weeks for delivery.

Your Money and Time Deserve Our Money and Time . . . and a Lot More . . .

After years of effort, dollars, and hours of study, you have managed to put together a collection of rare and quality coins of which you can be proud. Certainly, your collection is worth a lot more today that it was when you first began. So, why not spend a little more time considering the best method of sale.

Superior Galleries can insure that your coins will bring the highest realized prices possible.

CONSIDER THESE ADVANTAGES:

* Superior entered the field of numismatics in 1930. Where else can you get 47 years of experience?
* We are a financially sound corporation, prepared to provide generous cash advancements at the time of consignment.
* Your collection, while stored in our vaults, is fully insured at all times.
* With the use of our extensive Numismatic Library, containing over 2,000 volumes, your coins will be expertly catalogued by a staff of professionals who are more than just familiar with your type of collection.
* We know the importance of quality photographs in assisting mail bidders, we therefore use more photographs than most European or Domestic auction firms.
* Our auctions are strategically planned around major numismatic events to insure that our sessions are well attended.
* Our mailing list has been carefully developed and closely screened to provide our consignment with qualified anxious buyers who are prepared to pay realistic prices for quality coins.
* The promotion of our auction sale begins with the first consignment we receive. Our spacious location in Beverly Hills provides a most comfortable atmosphere and allows every floor bidder the opportunity to view the lots at least three months prior to our sale. We personally contact our active buyers and provide private viewing of your coins.
* Most importantly, after the sale is over and you have reaped your financial rewards for all of the years you have spent building your collection, our catalog becomes your catalog . . . A permanent record of all that you have achieved in numismatics.

We, at Superior Galleries, are certain that our method of auction sale is the finest available and we have proved it to our consignors. Now, we want to prove it to you. We will be happy to provide you with all of the information you will need as well as a past auction catalog and prices realized so you may judge for yourself.

Simply Simons.

When you finally get around to investing in rare coins, there is but one alternative:

M.B. Simons and Associates, Ltd.

At M.B. SIMONS & ASSOCIATES, LTD., we have been in the main-stream of numismatic professionalism for over fifteen years, and our firm is steadily growing. We are one of the most firmly established rare coin corporations in the United States, and we aren't shy about flaunting our credentials; life members of the American Numismatic Association, members of the Professional Numismatists' Guild, the American Numismatic Society, and the Numismatic Literary Guild, as well as all major state, regional and educational organizations. From our headquarters outside Philadelphia we do business around the world and last year Krause Publications (producers of Numismatic News and other noteworthy publications) presented us their "Customer Service Award" for high business standards.

Although we do not claim to be the only noteworthy numismatic investment firm, we are recognized as one the best, and we believe our program is unique and worthy of your consideration.

In a word, we are flexible. Most major coin companies promote programs in which clients are required to subscribe to a regimen of fixed monthly payments. We do not offer such a plan because we feel it leads to certain abuses, and clients wind up with coins they neither want nor enjoy. Our method is to work with you as an individual, in terms of your own investment goals and needs. Only then will we supply you with investment grade material to meet those needs.

Your investment is ultimately your own decision, and should reflect your own taste and intelligence as a result. We are here to advise you and to help locate the right coins for you at the right price. In so doing we have been instrumental in assembling some of the finest numismatic collections in the United States and abroad.

Our coin catalogues and fixed price lists are a guide for you, but your choices are by no means limited to the items we have in inventory. We are, after all, dealers in recognized rarities, and they are not as easily located as a block of common stock! We will gladly locate a particular piece for you if it is available, and we will be pleased to represent you at all major numismatic auctions.

We feel our research department is the best in the business. Our well trained, professional staff spends many hours each week researching price histories and current trends – constantly looking for the undervalued market areas that will provide you with the best possible investment material. In addition, we employ Certified Public Accountants who will gladly advise you on the numismatic investment of private funds, corporate pension plans, Keogh programs, or estate planning.

Why not join us?

"Remember in Kagin's 1977 ANA Auction that beautiful Victor Emanuel III 1903 100 lire in EF?

"Well, I do because out of all the dealers in the world, I paid the highest price.

"Recalling my past acquisitions, I also remember a magnificent piece that I picked up in Superior's June 1979 auction . . . Italy's Humbert I 1878 5 lire in EF.

"Surely you remember that timeless piece I purchased from NASCA's 'London Collection' in July 1979; that rare Papal States 1589 Anno V. scudo in Fine.

"I am interested in only the finest quality, the rarest condition—the ultimate in numismatics. Why? Because to acquire this caliber of material, I have to pay the highest prices available."

Prices are for defect-free common genuine (with "dollars") pieces. Some early dates and rare varieties and types bring a premium, often substantial. I'll pay over $10,000 for certain rarities. Grading follows strict ANA principles; MS-65's are breathtaking gems only rarely encountered. Authentic original tokens also purchased at lower but fair prices. Restrikes, replicas, and fantasy pieces returned uninsured.

WE PAY MORE!
WHY SELL FOR LESS?

WE WANT TO BUY: Your entire collection is urgently needed no matter what the size, if it contains the items we are looking for. Generally we are interested in any collection which contains Choice and Rare coins and early U.S. coins in AU or better condition.

SELLING TO US: You will find that selling to our Rare Coin Galleries is easy and safe. Here is all you do—Package your coins carefully and send them to us insured or registered mail. You may state the value you wish to receive or send your coins for our generous offer. Upon receipt David Bland, Jr. will personally examine your coins and notify you immediately. Our offer will be in the form of a confidential insured check—cash payments can also be arranged. No collection is too large, (we have over $1,000,000.00 to spend). If your collection is too large to mail please send an itemized inventory to the attention of David Bland, Jr., and we will travel to you if the size of the collection warrants it.

RECEIVE MORE FOR YOUR COINS: Because our needs are so great at this time we will pay more than any other major dealer in the U.S. Why sell your collection for less when it is so easy and safe to sell your coins to David Bland, Jr.?

MYLAR SOURCE

Stops Coin Oxidation! Stops Currency Fading!

Damaging coin oxidation and currency fading caused by "Ultra Violet Rays" from sunlight or fluorescent light is prevented by the use of Mylar. DuPont Mylar is the most dimensionally stable of all plastics. Mylar cannot be torn, contains no plasticizer as in acetate to migrate from film causing deterioration, brittleness, or yellowing. It is unaffected by water, moisture vapor, oils, greases, most acids, alkalis and solvents. At last—Coin and Currency Protection! We now have "failsafe DuPont Mylar, clear lined" coin Flip-Lines. Each comes with information card. No staples or cardboard. Coins are locked in by clear Mylar flap; coins do not touch vinyl.

Paying Top Prices

Not Just A Slogan But Guaranteed Results:

1) We are consistently one of the biggest buyers at any major coin convention we attend. The coins that we buy from other dealers have mostly been purchased from collectors. Why not sell to the top buyer?
2) Year after year we have bought more collections from collectors than other dealers on a competitive bid basis. We are not afraid to bid against our competitors; we welcome the opportunity.
3) We have one of the larger mail order businesses in the country and we are constantly in need of good numismatic material. Since we have the customers we can and will pay more.
4) We have never had to pass up a collection because of size. We will not try to buy your collection and then pay you for it as we sell it.
5) We spent over 100 days traveling last year to buy coins. Few can match this record. If you have a collection for sale, we would appreciate having an opportunity to show you how much we can pay.

You Have The Following Options Available:

1) You may ship your coins to us with the prices wanted.
2) You may ship your coins for our offer. We will contact you immediately with our offer.
3) Large collections we will travel to see.

HASTY SELLING VS. QUICK BORROWING

Selling your collection can be profitable if you have enough time to find the best prices. But a collection sold quickly is seldom sold profitably.

In any emergency, borrow the money you need at Edelman's. Use your collection as collateral and still retain complete ownership.

At Edelman's, you can obtain quick confidential loans for any amount up to 80% of the value of your properties — from $50 to $50,000 and more. Take as long as 30 months to pay with a repayment plan tailored to your specific needs. Your collection will be safely protected in Edelman's air-conditioned vaults until you reclaim it. Write today for further information.

WANTED!
TOKENS & MEDALS
related to
DENTISTRY

From any and all countries of the world. Please send item or clear rubbing for my offer. Be sure to state if gold, silver, copper, tin, lead, zinc, or whatever.

These are for a collector friend of some 20 years' standing who has asked my help in furthering his collection. Because my friend now lives in a far-away place and only he knows what he already has, I have to forward offerings to him and await his answer. Thus it may take a couple of weeks for you to get a reply from me on these dental items. I will acknowledge your letter upon receipt and will get back to you. If you are a collector and long-time ANA member, I will simply put the two of you in direct contact. My interest in this matter is that of a friend and in no way commercial.

QUIETLY . . .

and with little ballyhoo, I've been paying up-to-date, current market prices for fine foreign coins, tokens, essays, and commemorative medals for many years.

Since 1958 I've been buying and selling numismatic items of quality, and with over 20 years of experience in foreign numismatics, a constantly increasing knowledge born of a real interest in and devotion to the subject, and a reference library which compares favorably to most, I feel I am well equipped to pay realistic prices for anything worthwhile you have for sale. Let me hear from you whenever you are thinking of selling.
